

Drain funds to be placed in escrow

City to join in Blakely Drain lawsuit

Councilman John Lewkowicz apparently has memorized the adage "if you first don't succeed, try, try again." Lewkowicz, in two prior attempts, failed, but last week mustered up enough support to get City Council to pass two of his resolutions on the controversial Blakely Drain assessment.

The city is forced to cough up nearly $150,000 for its share of an engineering study put together about 10 years ago on the Blakely Drains. The study dissipated, but the engineering firm went to court and convinced Circuit Judge Charles Kaufman that the cities involved should pay for their labors.

The city decided to pay the $150,000 (its share) by raising .35 mills in an across-the-board special city assessment to its residents. The city is under court order to pay its share of the costs for the study or face contempt charges.

However, Brownstown, one of the cities involved, has decided to fight the court decision. Lewkowicz had previously urged to join in the suit, however failed to get enough council support.

Last Tuesday, with councilman Alan R. Lambert absent from the proceedings, Lewkowicz found enough votes to support his two resolutions.

He asked for and received support from councilmen Jimmie Raspberry, Fred Junior Block and Mayor Pro Tem Mary Ann Banks for the following resolution:

"...That the corporation counsel of the City of Romulus under provision of Article 5, Section 7 of the City Charter file an application for leave of appeal to the Michigan Supreme Court to join in the application with the cities of Woodhaven and the Township of Brownstown in the filing of a motion for a stay of proceedings of the Blakely Drain."

Voting against the motion were councilmen Pete Bergeron and Barry Baumann.

Bergeron said he felt that the city was wasting money it sorely needed.

"If the other communities who are involved in this lawsuit win," Bergeron said, "then we win. Therefore, I can't see spending money on legal fees when we don't have to."

To that, Raspberry replied that he didn't expect the other cities to carry the ball for them. "We didn't — and by that I mean the people didn't — get anything from this study. So why should they pay for it? What can I tell my constituents when they ask me about this?"

Lewkowicz received unanimous support for his second resolution when he asked that the special assessment for his second resolution be placed in a separate escrow account fund. "That the fund shall not be used for any other purpose. Further, the funds be invested at the highest interest rates, and that the Blakely assessment funds shall not be released without approval from council."

Ushers host fundraiser

The St. Aloysius Usher Club is sponsoring a benefit to help raise funds for Alex "Buck" McCraight who had been hospitalized. The benefit, a giant pig roast, will be held between 11 a.m. and 6 p.m. on Sat., Sept. 25 at Kennedy Park.

Tickets, at $5, are available from Olive White (941-6499), Karen Shonta (941-3340) and Judy White (941-1214). Contact Mike Prybyla at 941-2356 for further information.

Open House at Child Center

The Romulus Child Care Center, 14701 Harrison Rd., will host an Open House and Art Show on Saturday, Sept. 18, beginning at 9 a.m.

For those who need further information, please telephone 941-5280.

For those who are athletic

For athletic and sports-minded Romulus residents, the parks and recreation department is planning to organize volleyball leagues for youth (14-17), women (18 and over) and men (18 and over) including a mixed league.

Also on the drawing boards is a co-ed basketball and open basketball league.

Those interested should contact Dennis Davidson at the parks and recreation department at 941-0666, extension 254.

Another way to fight MD

Jerry Maton's crops are ready for harvest. And Belleville-VanBuren area residents can share in the fruits of this generous man's labor by purchasing home grown vegetables and fruits on Sun. Sept. 5 and Mon., Sept. 6.

All the proceeds from the sales will be donated by Maton to the Jerry Lewis Muscular Dystrophy campaign. Maton, of 12175 Beckley Rd., (between Denton Rd. and the I-94) began the practice of selling his garden produce for the fight against MD seven years ago and has helped raise more than $13,000.

If you want freshly cut vegetables and fruit, Maton will be on hand during the holidays to sell them. For further information, telephone 697-8636.

Schools view millage renewal as crucial

Officials warn: 'No millage, no school'

The Romulus School District will hold a Special Election on Sept. 13 to ask voters to renew 8.5 mills for school operation that has expired.

The renewal, which is identified as Proposal No. 1 on the ballot represents more than $2,500,000 of local revenue to the school district. Passed in November, 1977, the five year proposal will not be paid by homeowners or industry unless approval is given by the voters this year.

Proposal No. 2 on the ballot asks for a one mill increase for maintenance projects such as the replacement of asbestos ceilings in the High School.

Dr. William Bedell, School Superintendent, explained: "We can save operating money by using these funds to change procedure and maintain our buildings more efficiently. These funds cannot be used for employee salaries."

Dr. Bedell continued: "The passage of the renewal is critical to the continued operation of the school system. 'If the millage is not renewed on Sept. 13, the School Board will close schools approximately October 15 for an indefinite period. The closing of our schools has been discussed with officials of the State and they have indicated they cannot help us if the renewal is not approved."

Board of Education President Dan Bales confirmed Bedell's statement and further explained that no business can operate with a revenue decrease of more than 1/3 of its budget.

"When the money was first approved, the school district went back to a six-hour school day. It reinstated art, music, and physical education and reduced class size. Since 1977, with no increase in operating millage, these improvements have been cut because of rising costs in a recessed economy. We simply do not have negotiable costs that can be cut," Bales said.

Trustee of the Board, Richard Campbell offered: "The union contracts that expired in June, 1981 have been negotiated with no salary increases for our employees."

Campbell also said that the teacher union has offered to freeze their salary for the 1982-83 school year to demonstrate their willingness to help in these critical times.

Bedell and board members also stressed the importance of the "circuit breaker" to Romulus residents, pointing out that many people receive 60 percent of their excess taxes beyond a percentage of their income back from the state.

The Board of Education has scheduled meetings with parent groups, clergy, elected officials and organizations in Romulus.

Dr. Bedell will be meeting with all employee groups. The Romulus Parent Area Council is planning a public meeting at the High School Auditorium on Sept. 9 at 7:30 P.M. RPAC president Howard Kesner, has invited the school board members, Dr. Bedell, and the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Dr. Phillip Runkel.

Kesner encourages all citizens to attend this information meeting.

It's fall festival time in Romulus

There will be a parade, street dancing and good food in downtown Romulus when the combined Romulus-St. Aloysius Fall Festival begins a weekend of activities and programs.

"Don't ask me how many people we're expecting down here," said Dennis Davidson, Romulus Parks and Recreation Director. "I really can't tell you. But it will be in the thousands. When you consider that this is a combined effort with St. Al's, and the downtown merchants are also holding a sidewalk sale, then you figure in the thousands."

It is the first time the city and St. Al's have joined forces to put on what they hope will be an annual affair.

Festival-goers can be expected to experience a wide variety of activity in the downtown area beginning Friday at 6 p.m. When the parade brings the curtain up on a three-day festival. Friday night's special programming will include street dancing to the music of Bobby Messer and The Countrymen.

Early Saturday morning, starting at 8 a.m. (and continuing until 10 p.m.) shoppers can take advantage of late-summer bargains as the local merchants host their annual Sidewalk Sales.

Festival-goers should be cautioned that parking will be at a premium and most areas are expected to be filled early in the day.

On Saturday, Sept. 4, there will be arts shows, street dances, an auction, polka mass, and a softball tournament. (The Romulus Roman published a complete program guide in its Aug. 25 edition).

On Sunday, chicken dinners will be featured, along with an auction, while Monday's top events include an antique auto show and a $10,000 raffle drawing.

Sumpter battles landfill

Whether City Sand's landfill operation will include hazardous waste is in the hands of the Wayne County Waste Site Approval Board.

After nearly two hours of heated debate in Sumpter Township's PNA Hall, more than 150 residents heard assurances that their operation would not affect the health and welfare of the residents of Sumpter.

However, more than 99 percent of the residents in the township disagree with City Sand's conclusion, according to Jim Reeves, township supervisor.

More than a year ago, City Sand had made application to Department of Natural Resources and state officials for a permit to utilize more than one-third of its 240-acre landfill operation on the southside of Willow Road near Sumpter Rd. as a disposal site for hazardous waste.

The landfill officials had applied for the permit to run the general commercial landfill for toxic wastes under the state's 1979 Hazardous Waste Management act.

Last Tuesday's meeting was one of a series to discuss the consequences of the operation, if the permit should be granted.

Tom Handyside, City Sand's vice president for engineering, had earlier labeled the project as controversial, but a necessity: "There is no doubt consumers and industry demand these sites and that's what we're in business for."

Reeves told the same board that "the people and the government of Sumpter Township wish wholeheartedly that this proposed Scrambled eggs anyone?

Handling eggs can be messy if one is not careful, and throwing them, especially during a contest can produce some interesting results, as the grimace on Catherine Fontaine's face indicates.

Mrs. Fontaine fumbled this toss but was quick enough to elude the plummeting egg as it headed earthbound for a scramble in the hot summer air. Anyone for scrambled eggs?

Recall is on in Wayne-Westland

The recall election against four members of the Wayne-Westland Board of Education will be held as scheduled, following dismissal of a lawsuit aimed at getting a permanent injunction against the Sept. 14 vote.

In a Wayne County Circuit Court hearing last Thursday Judge John Kirwan dismissed the lawsuit brought by board trustees Mary Arbour, Mildred Batterson, Kenneth Marshall and Donald Rusnock against the Wayne County Clerk, The Wayne County Election Commission and Westland City Clerk.

An intervening defendant in the suit was Taxpayers United Together (TUT), the citizens group which collected more than 5,000 signatures per trustee to force the recall election.

The trustees had maintained that their statutory right to challenge the signatures on the petitions had been denied and that those signatures had been obtained by "fraud, deceit and misrepresentation."

The judge had determined in a hearing Aug. 16 that two distinct issues existed in the lawsuit, the trustees' rights and how the signatures were obtained. After hearing arguments on the first issue, he declined to issue the injunction because the request to challenge was not made with the filing official, the Wayne County Clerk, but rather with the local officials, with whom the requests had been made the day before the 15-day limit to challenge.

Testimony was never presented in last Thursday's hearing due to arguments presented by TUT attorney George Maurer pertaining to the need for an evidentiary hearing.

Maurer, citing a Wisconsin Supreme Court decision, argued that the issue of a recall is not a judicial matter, but rather political, to be determined by the electors not the courts.

The Wisconsin decision, he pointed out, stated that "the court is not empowered to conduct a hearing on the truth or falsity of the issue of the recall," since it is "a purely political issue to be determined by the electors who come to cast their ballots."

The decision also pointed out that recall is the discharge of public officials for any cause, or without any cause, and that "officials as the servants, have no rights to the office they hold."

Attorney E. Peter Drolet, representing the four board members, told Judge Kirwan he found it difficult to believe that the court was not "empowered to act, even if a totally dishonest smear campaign" were to have been waged.

Kirwan in making his decision noted that the state statute on the recall of elected officials does not address what happens, if provisions of the law are violated.

He added that for the board members to prevail in their lawsuit they would have to show, in his estimation, in excess of 400 persons who signed the petitions and were victims of fraud.

TUT is seeking the recall of the four board members based on their vote to approve a two-year contract extension with the Wayne-Westland Education Association. That extension contained pay increases, which have been figured out at 7.8 and 7.2 percent for the two years.

Mrs. Miller said the group will be conducting a "poor man's campaign," making their own bumper stickers and yard signs that urge voters to "Recall all 4."

The trustees, according to Mrs. Arbour, will be conducting a low key campaign, utilizing door-to-door campaigning and making themselves available to small gatherings with residents of the school district.

In Washtenaw County

2-car accident kills Romulus man

A Romulus man became the 20th accident fatality in Washtenaw County this year.

The victim, 56-year-old Robert Daniels, was killed when he apparently lost control of his vehicle and collided with a car driven by a Willis man, according to the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department.

The fatal accident occurred at approximately 4 p.m. last Thursday.

Deputies said the victim was driving eastbound on Willow and had stopped at the Whittaker intersection. Daniels pulled into the intersection and apparently did not see the vehicle heading south on Whittaker.

The second car was driven by Chris Gibson, 21, of Willis. Deputies said Daniels was taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital where he was pronounced dead one hour after the crash.

Neither Gibson nor his passengers received any visible injuries, according to the deputies. Gibson was not ticketed.

Deputies reported that 20 persons have lost their lives on Washtenaw County roads so far this year as compared to 23 at the same time a year ago.

Mrs. Robbe, member of Belleville pioneer family

A prominent member of one of Belleville's pioneer families passed away on August 23. Eleanor H. Robbe, widow of Dr. Samuel H. Robbe, died at the age of 86 after a long illness. Mrs. Robbe was born November 29, 1896 in Grand Rapids. The daughter of George and Edna Rose. After having lived in McBain and Harrietta, her family moved to Beulah where her father owned the town's general store for many years. She earned a teaching certificate from what is now Western Michigan University, and taught elementary classes in Hancock, Suttons Bay, Richmond, and Detroit.

In 1924 she married Dr. Samuel H. Robbe, and in 1930 the couple returned to Dr. Robbe's family home on East Huron River Drive, where she continued to live until her death. Dr. Robbe died in 1962.

An avid gardener, Mrs. Robbe was a founder in the 1940's of the first garden club in this area, and her interest in plants and their cultivation never abated. She was a member of the Belleville Methodist Church where she taught Sunday School for a number of years, and also of the Women's Auxiliary of the Detroit Dental Association.

Mrs. Robbe is survived by one daughter, Harriet Moore, and son-in-law Jasper Moore of Birmingham, Michigan; three grandchildren, Catherine Anderson of Pittsburgh, Emily Moore of Chicago, Robbe Moore of Birmingham; one brother, Howard Rose of Stoneham, Massachusetts, and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were conducted in the Belleville Methodist Church with Rev. James Tulle officiating. Arrangements were by Roberts Brothers Funeral Home, followed by burial in Tyler Street Cemetery.

Romulus' Dorothy Rush to chair UWM committee

Eight area residents were recently selected for leadership within United Way of Michigan (UWM). UWM is a statewide federation of 25 state and national health and community service agencies which receive funding from 105 local United Ways in Michigan.

Accepting leadership positions are: Frank T. Judge, Jr., Ludger A. Beauvais, Dorothy M. Rush, Howard K. Face, Henry B. Frank, Charles E. Anderson, Donald J. Pizzimenti and Arthur J. Temske, Jr.

UWM's Membership Committee is being chaired by Dorothy M. Rush for 1982-83. Rush, of Romulus, has served in a number of positions with United Way of Michigan for many years.

Frank T. Judge, Jr., Director, Civic Affairs Office, Ford Motor Company, Dearborn, has been selected to chair the Sponsorship Committee. This committee is responsible for soliciting business to sponsor UWM's major meetings.

Ludger A. Beauvais, Secretary-Treasurer, J. Hudson Employees Credit Union, Detroit, was recently elected Vice-President of the Board. He was also selected to chair the Agency Relations, Allocations and Planning Committee.

Howard K. Face, General Staff Supervisor of Financial & Economic Studies, Michigan Bell Telephone Company, Detroit, has again been selected to be chairperson of the Economic Forecast Committee.

United Way of Michigan has had the services of Henry B. Frank of Huntington Woods, in a number of capacities. This year, he will chair the Cancer Committee.

Charles E. Anderson will serve as Co-chairperson of the Personnel and Operating Committee and the Long Range Planning Committee. Anderson has been active in the Agency Relations, Allocations and Planning Committee, having served as Co-chairperson of the Membership Committee for 1981-82.

Donald J. Pizzimenti, Assistant Vice President of Community & Governmental Affairs, Detroit Edison Company, Detroit, has chaired various committees; he is also actively involved with the United Foundation.

Arthur J. Temske, Jr., General Director, Marketing GMISCA, Warren, was recently selected to serve as Chairperson of the Nominating Committee of United Way of Michigan (UWM).

Temske, who, this June was elected Chairperson of the Board, has held a number of positions within United Way of Michigan. In 1981-82, he was elected President of the Board.

Sumpter is losing hazardous waste battle

hazardous waste disposal facility would not be constructed in this township.
"We not only feel that it is a bad location but, because of past experience, we can't truly trust those who will be operating this landfill. It is our opinion that the callous disregard for the wishes of the people of Sumpter Township displayed by City Sand and Landfill in the past will only be continued in this latest venture, with the possibility of even greater harm to the people of this township."

Reeves concluded that "the presentation made by the various representatives of Sumpter Township tonight has been concerned with one thing and one thing alone — the health and safety of its people."
"It seems to us that the State and Federal government, in its attempt to remedy its past neglect on the dumping of hazardous waste, which has resulted in damage not only to the environment but to people themselves, have pushed through laws, regulations, guidelines, riding rough-shod over the same individuals who they now say they are trying to protect."

"Is it any wonder that the people of this country and this state do not trust law, regulations, bureaucracies, pushed by the very people who only a short time ago knowingly inflicted this disaster upon them? The people of Sumpter Township want only one thing. They want the assurance that they will be able to live on their land; in their community, as long as they want to without fear, without the threat of illness and with peace of mind which comes from knowing they are being protected. The people must be an equal partner in any type of operation which affects them as much as does a Hazardous Waste Landfill Disposal Facility."

"They must have confidence that they are in control. They must have assurance that all parties will listen to them and they must have a belief that this is still a 'government of the people' and not the bureaucracy," he said.
Only five of the 10 members of the approval board attended last month's meeting. The board has approximately 1½ months to evaluate the data offered by both sides of the argument and then return with its decision.

Callin' em

With the weatherman providing them with perfect weather and Matt Wegienka calling the steps for the square dance, Romulus Senior Citizens "had one heck of an outing" last week as a score of residents at the Romulus Senior Citizens Complex participated in their inaugural picnic.

Come on out to Senior Center

Are you 50 years young and up? Come on over to the Romulus Senior Center, 36515 Bibbins, and meet some terrific folks.
There is always something going on and new faces are always welcome. Social activities as well as recreational activities are offered. In September, fall classes will be beginning offering ceramics, macrame, bingo, sewing, club #1 and much more.
Also, September 26-30 the seniors will be traveling to the Pocono Mountains and it is not too late to sign up to join them in this adventure.

Cost is $299 per person, double occupancy, and that also includes eight gourmet meals, motorcoach transportation, lodging, a tour of New York City and activities at Mt. Airy Lodge.
If you are interested, stop by the Senior Drop-In Center and take a look at the itinerary and perhaps you will become convinced that this is one trip you should not miss.

Ron Knope benefit scheduled

A group of Ron Knope's friends are planning a Benefit Dance on Saturday, September 25, at the Romulus Progressive Hall, Ozga Road.
Music will be donated by "The Gentlemen" a local dance band. There will be a midnight lunch, beer and set-ups, door prizes and a 50-50 drawing.
The proceeds from the dance will be used to help defer some of the expenses incurred by Ron's family by his extended illness.

For more information or tickets, call Gene and/or Claudette Rakotz at 753-9775.
Tickets are also available at the Huron Township Office from Mary Lou Carey. Donation is $10 per person.

No questions asked Canton trustees nix advisory vote

By SUE BACHAND
ANP Staff Writer

Voters in Canton Township won't be asked what they think about a change in the present form of township management in November.
A 6-1 vote of members of the township board of trustees soundly defeated a motion by Trustee Robert Padgett proposing the advisory question concerning the hiring of a full-time township manager at the Tuesday evening meeting. Padgett had suggested the change earlier in the month, but the issue was tabled until the meeting this week when a full board would be present.

Padgett suggested the voters be asked if they would approve of the board members considering the change from the present elected township supervisor, to employing a full-time manager and part-time supervisor with an advisory question on the November ballot. Padgett had previously stated that he felt it might be beneficial for the township to consider this at this time rather than waiting until the township supervisor's term of office expires. He explained that he felt there were many benefits to the full-time manager type of government including having the manager report directly to the board of trustees and having the responsibility for following the directions of that body without political affiliation or the interference of campaigning for office. The elected supervisor would act as the chairman at the meetings of the board and chief representative of the township and receive only a part-time salary, while the manager would be paid at a full time employee rate.

Trustee Stephen Larson voiced his objections to the advisory question, explaining that he felt that the vote would not be based on the opinion of an educated electorate. "I feel we need public input in this type of decision, but I am not sure this is the way to obtain that input," he said. Larson explained that he felt voters would be uneducated as to the proposal and its meaning in November and that sufficient time for the proper education and publicity of the vote did not exist. "Many voters will enter that booth and won't even have read the proposal," he said. "The manager vs. supervisor question is one with a great many pros and cons. I don't think such a vote will be worth much and we might go off in a direction completely different because of it," he added.

Poole, in a letter to the board, had stated that his position on this issue had not changed since 1980 when he suggested the issue be put on the ballot. His suggestion included a two-part question which included asking voters if they would be willing to consider the superintendent-supervisor type government knowing it might cost an increased $40-$60,000 per year. At the meeting Poole stated that if he were asked he would tell the board, "Consider whatever you want, just don't do anything until you tell me what it's going to cost."

Poole and Trustee Carol Bodenmiller both expressed their concern for the lack of time to educate voters prior to the November ballot, and Trustee Loren Bennett explained that his concern would be that the lack of education might lead to a voter response which would preclude the issue ever being considered.

Strike up the band

Moving right along with the music are members of the senior citizens' ensemble made up of Malcolm Smith on banjo, Matt Wegienka on sax, Frank Horwath, fiddle, Melvin Johnson, also on banjo, Shirley Wilson, harmonica, Dave Ries, guitar and Muriel Boelter, piano. They played and the seniors loved it during their annual picnic held last week on the green adjoining the Romulus Senior Citizens' complex.

Man in the middle

Can't accuse Romulus councilman John Lewkowicz — or is it a "lookalike"? — of not living it up. Dancing to the music and the rhythm provided by the Senior Citizens' band, more than 50 senior citizens frolicked in the sun at their annual picnic last week.

Sitting this one out

While the music played, these senior citizens preferred to "sit one out" during the senior citizens' annual picnic festivities, labeled a "huge success" by those who took part.

Local CB group is 'Kwik Helpers'

By DENNIS NIEMIEC
Feature Editor

To their CB counterparts, they're "Moonshine Man" and "Blondie."

But more and more people are coming to know Jim and Shelia Shelton as their friends in times of need.

The Sheltons are two of the guiding forces behind the Kwik Helpers, a non-profit organization based in Romulus which will do just about anything to raise funds for those less fortunate.

Over the Labor Day weekend the Kwik Helpers will be handling the beer and hot dog concessions at the St. Aloysius & Romulus Festival in downtown Romulus. All proceeds will be donated to the Penrickton School for the Blind.

Such a fundraising venture is second nature to this club, organized in 1977 with 12 members. Throughout the year the Kwik Helpers hold dinners, dances, Monday Night bingos, coffee breaks, raffle ticket sales and the like to solicit funds. Last year these activities produced some $2500.

Where do such monies go?
• A small boy is mauled by a dog and his parents find that there is no insurance to cover medical bills. The family receives more than $700 from the Kwik Helpers, thanks to a coffee break gathering held in Belleville.

• Brain surgery is required for a Romulus boy whose family is financially strapped. Funds are raised by the 73-member Kwik Helpers

County to layoff 299 employees to cut $17.6 million deficit

Reconsidering a proposal it rejected two weeks ago, the Wayne County Board of Commissioners has ordered the layoff of 299 employees to eliminate a $17.6 million deficit and to gain permission from the state Municipal Finance Commission for borrowing up to $20 million on anticipated tax receipts.

The layoffs would become effective Oct. 4 and continue for 20 months until mid-May, 1984. They would involve 462 positions, 163 of them already vacant. The measure was approved by a vote of 18-1.

It is the second time recently that the commissioners ordered layoffs, but the first plan was rescinded in favor of a proposed 1-mill tax increase that was defeated in the Aug. 10 primary election. Meanwhile, negotiations between labor bargaining units and the County Labor Relations Board are underway towards possible wage concessions which could yet prevent the layoffs.

Even presuming the Municipal Finance Commission (MFC) immediately grants permission to borrow, County fiscal authorities say paydays are nevertheless in jeopardy through September. Once permission is given to sell tax anticipation notes, time is needed to market the notes with private lending institutions, according to the County Auditors and the County Treasurer.

Raymond J. Wojtowicz, County Treasurer, said that the County presently has money enough to pay employees only through Sept. 3, although Samuel A. Turner, Chairman of the Board of Commissioners, has asked the auditors to exhaust all possibilities to provide for paydays on time until possible revenue from borrowing is available.

"I expect our auditors to expedite the borrowing, as well as to conserve our existing finances and to give payrolls a high priority," said Turner. He explained that County revenue "constantly trickles in" and that use of borrowed funds may not be necessary except as a precaution.

"If the funds are not needed, certainly we won't use them," he stated, "but if we get permission to borrow, we will have no trouble meeting paydays in September."

Turner was optimistic regarding the pending decision of MFC. "I hope they will see fit to help us avoid chaos in this year of economic recession. I know they are aware of the impact their judgment will have on the plight of our community," he said.

"All of us regret the decision on the layoffs, but I think it simply reflects the Board's realization that there is no easy way out. There was no way for the Board to avoid making the hard decision," said Turner.

Wayne County now employs about 3,500, with approximately $1 million payroll necessary each week. Turner said he has instructed the auditors to submit an application to borrow in time for consideration by the MFC on Tuesday, Aug. 31. He said the plan will essentially point out the capacity of the County to repay what it proposes to borrow.

The lone dissenting vote was from Commissioner Rose Mary C. Robinson, who said the County staff was already "cut to the bone" and barely able to maintain minimum services. Further personnel reductions would mean a disproportionate reduction in public services unavailable elsewhere, she said.

'Forward in Faith'

Baptists to hear 'Enchanted Journey'

"Forward in Faith", the theme of the second annual fall focus of the First Baptist Church of Waayne, will take on special meaning beginning Saturday, September 11 at 7 p.m. when the public is invited to the Junior Choir's presentation of the musical, "Enchanted Journey."

Based on the classic Pilgrim's Progress by John Bunyon, the choir will take the audience on a musical journey that races the path of one searching for true meaning and happiness in life.

Written by Cam and Cher Floria, the concert will involve both music and drama and promises to be an exciting beginning to the fall focus program.

As an added attraction, an old-fashioned ice cream social will conclude the evening held in the church's central courtyard. Plenty of free parking is available at the church.

A memorable Sunday morning service is planned for September 12, beginning at 9:30 a.m. with Sunday School classes for all ages, from preschool to senior citizen.

At 11:45 a.m., "Pastor Ken" Olsen, brother of Dr. Arnold Olsen, senior pastor of the church, will return to the pulpit for the first time since leaving the church last year to pastor a church in New Hampshire. Beloved by all, "Pastor Ken" will make the fall focus a special homecoming for many people returning from summer vacations.

Immediately following the morning service, the entire congregation is invited to a picnic lunch under the old orchard trees on the east lawn.

Then, at 2:30 p.m., Don Wharton, well-known gospel singer, writer and music publisher will be in concert in the church auditorium. A graduate of Eastern Michigan University and former basketball coach at Concordia College in Ann Arbor, Wharton worked as music director of the Huron Valley Youth for Christ in Ann Arbor before embarking on a full-time music ministry. He has released two albums "Uncut Diamond" in 1979 followed by "Free Room and Board" in 1980. He is now president and principle artist/writer of Third Firkin Music Company in Ann Arbor.

"Fall Focus" is traditionally a special time of the year at First Baptist of Wayne, and this year is no exception. Come share the excitement of renewal, the start of new programs and plans for the coming year and the wonderful fellowship and music of this year's special events.

Views On Dental Health
By SHERMAN H. KANE, D.D.S.
SERVICES COVERED BY DENTAL INSURANCE
Today, some 70 million (3 out of every 10 Americans) are covered by some form of dental insurance and estimates are that coverage could increase to 95 million within five years. Individual companies and labor unions are responsible for most of this increase. If you have dental insurance, you may wonder what dental services are covered. Although all plans are not the same, most cover a wide range of services for both the employee and his family.
These services generally include examinations, x-rays, professional cleaning, fillings, crowns and other restorations, root canal treatment, extractions, other oral surgery, and periodontal treatment (for diseases of gums and bone supporting the teeth). Additionally, some plans cover dentures, fixed and removable bridges, and orthodontic care.
Dental insurance programs do not usually cover hospitalization costs involved in dental treatment. However, hospital care may be covered by your medical insurance. Also, nearly every program excludes the cost of dental treatment provided for purely cosmetic reasons.
A public service to promote better dental health. From the office of: SHERMAN H. KANE, D.D.S., 9840 Haggerty Rd., Belleville. Phone 697-4400.

Westwood won't open schools until voters decide millage fate

The State Board of Education this week came to the assistance of Michigan's only school district that will be unable to open school on schedule this fall because of a lack of funds.

State Superintendent of Public Instruction Phillip E. Runkel announced the opening of an Information Center in the Westwood School District where voters will go to the polls in a special election Sept. 14.

It will be the fourth time a proposal for the renewal of 27.05 mills has been on the ballot in Westwood. The renewal millage has been defeated three times this year, leaving the district only with its allocated millage — 8.65 mills — with which to operate for the 1982-83 school year.

Runkel said the Information Center is being opened today to answer questions from Westwood voters about the school district's finances.

The Westwood Information Center will be similar to information centers operated by the State Board last year in the Alpena, Pontiac, Taylor and Harper Creek (Calhoun County) school districts.

"Westwood officials asked us to open an Information Center because many voters in the district have questions about the district's finances and what will happen if the millage is defeated again on Sept. 14," Runkel said.

Westwood, which is located near the western Wayne County community of Inkster, is expected to enroll about 3,000 students when it opens for the 1982-83 school year.

Runkel, speaking at a news conference at the Detroit Press Club, said two other Wayne County school districts — Romulus and Taylor — will have crucial millage votes the day before the Westwood election.

The Sept. 13 elections in Romulus and Taylor are on renewal proposals that were defeated earlier this year. Romulus has 8.5 renewal mills for five years while Taylor has two renewals on the ballot — 4.10 mills for five years and 5.40 mills for one year.

Officials of the Taylor School District have said they will be unable to provide a full year of school for the district's 17,000 students if the two millage proposals are defeated.

The Superintendents of all three districts — Equilla Bradford of Westwood, William Bedell of Romulus and Simon Kachaterian of Taylor — participated in the news conference with Runkel who said he was confident voters in the three districts will approve the millage needed for the schools to operate minimum programs next year.

Runkel said the Westwood Information Center will be housed in the Wayne Intermediate School District Annex at 33500 Van Born Rd. in Wayne. The telephone number is 563-8130. State Board of Education staff persons will be on duty daily from 2 P.M. to 5 P.M. and 7 P.M. to 9:30 P.M. Monday through Friday to answer questions Westwood voters have about their school district.

Romulus teacher says:

Assertive training is important

What did a class of housewives, businessmen and high school students have in common?

They all needed more information about themselves, according to Tricia Winborn, a Romulus resident who teaches assertiveness training for the Community Services/Continuing Education Department at Wayne County Community College's Western Center.

Winborn says her students learn to explore their needs and goals, and then practice techniques that help them achieve their goals while protecting the rights of other people.

Most of Winborn's students had personal reasons for taking the class. She cites a man enrolled in her class who wanted to improve his relationship with his children.

Assertiveness training helped him overcome the inhibitions that kept him from expressing his feelings to his children.

Another man in the class she describes as the easy going type, felt that the women in his life walked all over him. By practicing on his classmates first, he learned to communicate his own needs more effectively.

Winborn believes that assertiveness training is especially useful for writing a resume or interviewing for a job.

Most people are nervous during job interviews, she says, and need to practice asking for the information they need to make good career decisions. Students practice exercises at home or at work, and are often surprised at the effectiveness of their new found skill.

Winborn will be teaching assertiveness training at WC3's Western center on Tuesday evenings from 7 to 10 p.m., for eight weeks starting on September 14. To register, a $44.50 tuition fee, plus $10 registration fee must be paid at registration. Registration is going on through September 13, 1982 from 11 a.m. - 7 p.m. Call for exact times. For additional information, call WC3 at 699-0200, ext. 1037.

Goosy, goosy, gander...

Ross Witte, 10, of Belleville had himself a champion at the recent Wayne County 4-H Fair, collecting a grand champion ribbon for his goose.

Local CB group is 'Kwik Helper'

The family.

• An elderly couple is having difficulties maintaining their house. Kwik Helper volunteers mow the lawn and complete a number of repairs.

• The holidays are not joyous occasions for everyone. However, $50 donations of food from Kwik Helpers put a little joy in the lives of numerous area families.

"We figure that if you've got enough and are able to help someone, then why not do it?," declared Mrs. Shelton, secretary of Kwik Helpers (her husband is president). "The merchants in Romulus have been very good to us."

Although much of the club's charitable work is done in Romulus, the Sheltons stress that Kwik Helpers will respond to requests from anywhere.

"Our policy is to keep the money we collect in the town where it comes from," explained Shelton, a laid off truck driver. "We'll try to find help for anyone who comes to us."

Kwik Helpers meet on the second Sunday of each month at 8 p.m. at the VFW Hall on Huron River Drive. Donations or requests can be directed to the organization at Post Office Box 282, Romulus 48174 or by calling 941-3551. According to Shelton, members do not have to be interested in CB communication to join the club.

In addition to financial donations, the group stocks an assortment of hospital beds, walkers, and wheelchairs as well as various household items.

"We have things stored all over the garage," laughed Mrs. Shelton. "And our members are trained in first aid, too."

Other officers in Kwik Helpers include Steve Stephens, vice-president; Orletta Holcomb, treasurer; Beverly Stephens, chairperson; Sandy Dubois, recording secretary; Bill Cook, trustee, and Chester Grayless, board of directors.

"I never realized there are so many people that need something," Shelton admitted. "One time I found two people sleeping in their station wagon with their two kids. They had been doing that for a week. We helped them rent a home and get settled."

"That's the reward of doing this," Mrs. Shelton added.

Willett named to board

The publisher of Associated Newspapers Inc. of Wayne, David J. Willett, has been elected to the Board of Directors of the Independent Business Association of Michigan (IBA).

IBA president and Michigan's Small Business Person of the Year, John Vander Ploeg, of Willett's election said: "The IBA is taking a major step forward by broadening its leadership structure to new and creative small business people, such as Dave Willett."

Willett is a returning IBA board member and participated in the Michigan Conference on Small Business.

IBA is a state-wide nonprofit association, representing more than 2,500 small employers. It maintains legislative action, political action and member service programs.

NOTICE OF LAST DAY OF REGISTRATION

OF THE QUALIFIED ELECTORS

VAN BUREN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

COUNTIES OF WAYNE AND WASHTENAW, MICHIGAN

FOR THE

SPECIAL ELECTION

TO BE ON

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1982

TO THE QUALIFIED ELECTORS OF SAID SCHOOL DISTRICT: PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that a Special Election for Van Buren Public Schools, Counties of Wayne and Washtenaw, Michigan, will be held in said School District on SATURDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1982.

Act 451, Public Acts of Michigan, 1976, as amended, provides in part as follows:

"The inspectors of election at an annual or special election shall not receive the vote of a person residing in a registration school district whose name is not registered as an elector in the city or township in which the person resides."

The last day for receiving registrations for the special election will be:

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 2, 1982

Persons registering after 5:00 o'clock p.m. on Thursday, September 2, 1982, will not be eligible to vote at the special election. Persons planning to register must determine when the City and Township Clerks' Offices or Secretary of State Drivers License Bureau will be open for registration.

Under the provisions of Act 451, Public Acts of Michigan, 1976, as amended, registrations will not be taken by school officials, and only persons who have registered as general electors with the appropriate City or Township Clerk of the City and Township in which they reside, or through registration at a Secretary of State Drivers License Bureau, are registered school electors.

The following propositions will be submitted to the electors at the Special Election on SATURDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1982:

PROPOSITION I — MILLAGE INCREASE PROPOSITION

Shall the limitation on the amount of taxes which may be assessed against all taxable property in the Van Buren Public Schools District, Counties of Wayne and Washtenaw, Michigan, be increased by 2 mills ($2.00 on each $1,000.00) of the state equalized valuation of all property in the School District for a period of five (5) years, namely 1982 to 1986, both inclusive, the funds to be used for the purposes of general school operation?

PROPOSITION II — MILLAGE INCREASE PROPOSITION

If Proposition I is approved as submitted in this election, shall the limitation on the amount of taxes which may be assessed against all taxable property in the Van Buren Public Schools District, Counties of Wayne and Washtenaw, Michigan, be increased by 5 mill ($0.50 on each $1,000.00) of the State equalized valuation of all property in the School District for a period of five (5) years, namely, 1982 to 1986, both inclusive, the funds to be used for the purposes of junior and senior high school athletic programs?

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that all persons having the following qualifications are entitled to register and vote:

a. A Citizen of the United States,
b. Over 18 years of age, and
c. A Resident of the State of Michigan for at least 30 days and of the School District 30 days prior to the date of election.

THIS NOTICE IS GIVEN by order of the Board of Education of the Van Buren Public Schools District, Counties of Wayne and Washtenaw, Michigan.

C.A.R.E. State police, volunteers spearhead Holiday safety program

The Michigan State Police are again requesting the cooperation and support of holiday travelers in making the highways safe this upcoming Labor Day weekend, Friday, September 3 through Monday, September 6.

Operation C.A.R.E., will be providing over 3,200 hours of extra traffic patrol which will be concentrated on 2,118 miles of the state's major trunklines.

"C.A.R.E.", an acronym for "Combined Accident Reduction Effort," was initiated by Michigan and Indiana in 1977 and has since developed into a nationwide summer holiday traffic accident reduction program. Forty-two states are expected to conduct "Operation Care" patrols this Labor Day weekend.

Michigan troopers will be especially watchful this holiday period for accident-causing violations such as drinking and driving, following too closely, improper passing, and excessive speed. During the 1981 Labor Day weekend in Michigan, over which 17 persons lost their lives, troopers removed 259 drinking drivers, assisted 2,389 troubled motorists and issued 10,159 traffic citations and 6,761 verbal warnings.

About 50 volunteer groups will be working with "Operation C.A.R.E." by providing their time and resources to serve refreshments and distribute traffic safety literature at 58 different rest areas and roadside parks throughout Michigan. The State Police encourage motorists to take a break from the stresses of driving and stop at a "C.A.R.E." break.

The State Police remind motorists that the 35 persons who lost their lives during the Memorial Day and July 4th weekends this year all had one thing in common — not one was wearing a safety belt!

Pair of winners

They were both champions, although Palquiri (right), Belleville resident Beth Herring's steer, was selected grand champion market steer at the annual Wayne County 4-H Fair. Palquiri weighed in at 1,350 pounds at age 17 months. Cheryl Simpson, 16, of New Boston collected honors of reserve grand champion for her steer, Cinnamon, which weighed 1,240 pounds at 17 months. — ANP photo.

Brown bag lunches: not for kids only

With today's economy, almost everyone finds themselves pinching food pennies in order to stay afloat. One lunchtime solution to dwindling spending money is the brown bag lunch. Inexpensive and easy to prepare, this traditional totable fare of every school child has found its welcomed way into adult lunch boxes throughout offices nationwide.

At the heart of the brown bag lunch is the sandwich which always has ruled supreme at lunchtime. Adult sandwiches can be as exciting as you dare. Don't shy away from adding exotic fillings to popular ones like peanut butter. And, experiment with breads other than white.

Two adult sandwich ideas that add flair to brown bag lunches are Health Salad Sandwiches and Peanut Butter Sandwich Pockets. The first offers a delicious version of Middle Eastern hummus, a chick pea mixture. With the addition of nutritious peanut butter and peanuts to the chick peas, the sandwich's protein equals that of meat or fish.

The second combines crunchy peanut butter, bacon and chutney, and East Indian condiment available in most supermarkets. The result is a crunchy and sweet sandwich that's practical, pleasing and nearly leak-proof.

If you take the chance, adult brown-bagging can be an exciting adventure — welcomed by both your taste-buds and your pocketbooks.

Health Salad Sandwich

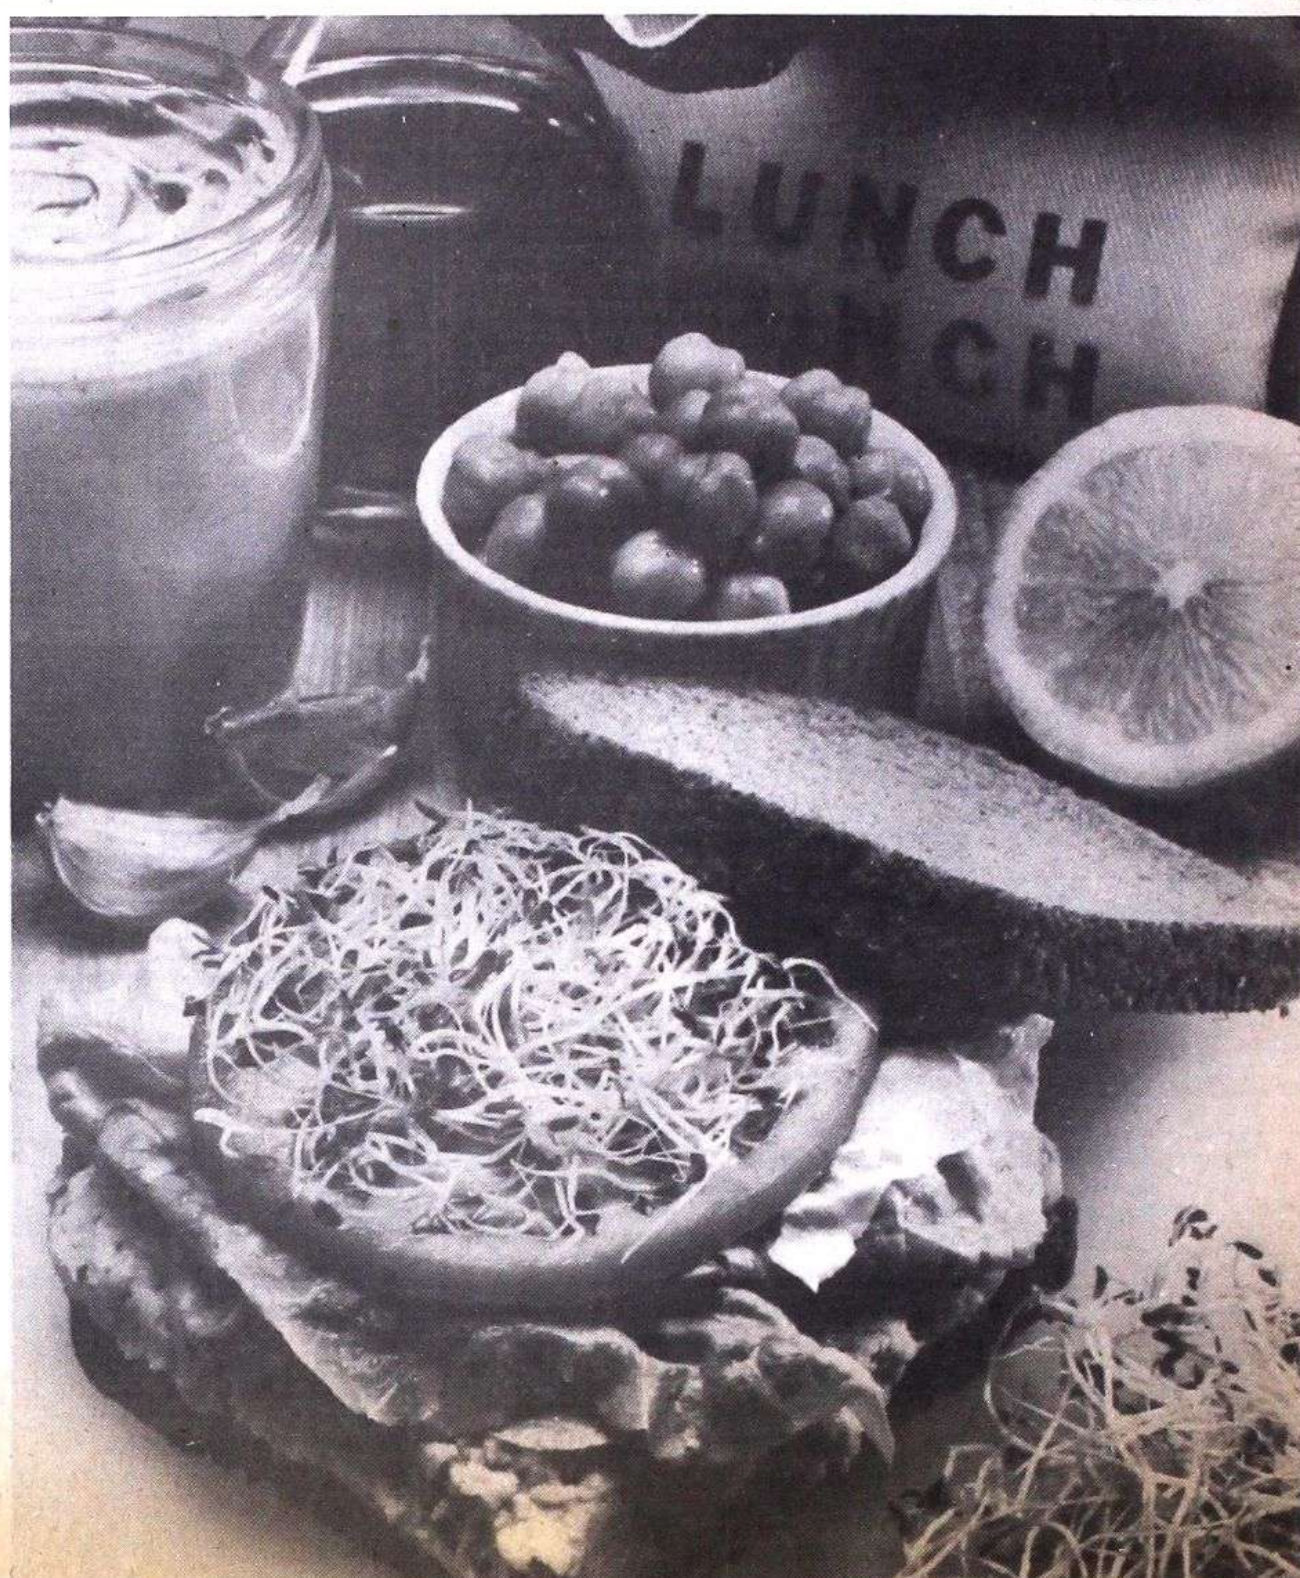

- 1 cup chick peas
- 2 cloves garlic, minced
- 4 tablespoons fresh lemon juice
- 2 teaspoons olive oil
- ½ cup ground salted peanuts
- ¼ cup creamy peanut butter
- Salt and pepper
- 8 slices whole wheat bread
- 4 lettuce leaves
- 4 tomato slices
- ½ cup alfalfa sprouts

In blender or food processor, blend chick peas until smooth. Add garlic, lemon juice and olive oil; blend until smooth. Blend in peanuts, peanut butter and salt and pepper to taste. Spread 4 slices of bread with peanut mixture. Top with lettuce, tomato slices and alfalfa sprouts. Place remaining slices of bread on top to form sandwiches. Makes 4 sandwiches.

Peanut Butter Sandwich Pockets

- ½ cup crunchy peanut butter
- ½ cup chopped chutney
- 4 individual sandwich pockets
- 6 slices bacon, cooked and crumbled
- 4 tomato slices

In a small bowl, combine peanut butter and chutney; mix well. Slice ½-inch piece from one end of sandwich pockets. Open each pocket and spread with peanut butter mixture; add bacon and tomato slice. Makes 4 sandwiches.

Open house to open 1982-83 season for Junior Study Club

The Belleville Junior Study Club has set Sept. 15 as the opening of its 1982-83 club year with the Martinsville Road home of Cathy Horste as the meeting site. The executive board has decided on a break with tradition and for this premiere session is inviting all interested women to attend its first annual "open house."

Although the group is labeled "junior", it is open to women of all ages. Its goals are to help members better themselves and thus, their community, by working together on community-oriented projects. The club also provides social aspects — the opportunity to meet with other women of similar circumstances once a month and to share problems and triumphs.

The Belleville Junior Study Club has no religious or political affiliations, all members are "equal opportunity volunteers."

The program for the initial meeting will be informal and will include a film of the history and goals of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, the international parent organization of the local group.

The GFWC and Belleville club are active in six main fields: education, arts, public affairs, international affairs, conservation and home life.

Among the recent accomplishments of the Belleville Junior Study Club are the highly successful anti-shoplifting campaign conducted in all the Van Buren elementary schools; the establishment of a Gifted and Talented Children's Education committee in the Van Buren Public School System; a "Giving Tree" wherein over 250 Christmas gifts were given to needy children and the purchase and pending placement of three State of Michigan historical markers for sites in and around Belleville. The Genevieve Clark Memorial Scholarship, given annually to a single, female parent interested in furthering her education, is still another important project.

The group also works to support Girlstown, a helping agency (home) for young women which is located in Belleville and owned and operated by the Michigan Federation of Women's Clubs.

There is no cost or obligation to attend this meeting. It is an invitation to meet new and interesting women and take part in bettering the community. Refreshments are always included during the social time which follows adjournment. For reservations or further details, interested parties may call club president Nancy Sawyer at 697-0764.

Landscape-nursery day plans set

Landscape plants, materials, ideas and advice will be available from specialists during the Landscape-Nursery Day to be held from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sept. 19, at Detroit's Eastern Market.

"Fall is for Planting" is the theme of this year's horticultural event, sponsored by the Wayne, Oakland and Macomb branches of Michigan State University's Cooperative Extension Service in cooperation with the Michigan Association of Nurserymen, the Metropolitan Detroit Landscape Association and the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

Specialists, including Master Gardeners from MSU's Cooperative Extension Service, will be on hand to help identify plants and plant problems. Samples brought in for identification should be in clear plastic bags. In addition, plants and services will be offered for sale by area growers, nurseries and landscapers.

Landscape-Nursery Day at Eastern Market will be an ideal opportunity to meet with and talk to many area growers and specialists, and to purchase quality plants for fall use for the home or yard.

Happiness is... having three daughters.

And if anyone had even HINTED a few short years back that I'd be making such a statement someday, I'd have laughed-or-glared them down, depending on what mood "they'd" put me in.

The (frenzied) word according to Mom used to be, "I don't wish you girls any bad luck but I sure hope each one of you has three daughters!" That profound remark (hex?) would echo throughout the house each time one of them pulled a "making me crazy" antic — having to have orange-colored shoelaces BY TOMORROW so all the cheerleaders' shoes would match at the game; being volunteered for Christmas party cookies and not telling me 'til they're getting on the bus that they need 'em TODAY!; refusing to get a haircut (AT LEAST A TRIM!) when the bangs and upper lip began to meet; wanting to "do me a favor" and bake something and turning the kitchen into an instant destruct area; tying up the telephone, stymieing incoming calls and having a fit at being limited to 20 minutes (take THAT times three daughters... and several calls per evening); offering their mother's services as chauffeur whenever some kid was without a ride (WILLOW RUN!?) and on and on. You moms out there know exactly what I mean so need I elaborate?

And, you know what? It all seems so insignificant now that I've "mellowed" (aged...)

Nowadays, when I rarely get to see them I find myself getting a wee bit nostalgic when, for instance, I hear something from "Funny Girl" or perhaps "Sound of Music" or "Lady Sings the Blues." My trio (or duo as chance would have it) knew the entire scores — complete with sound effects — and would treat us (although they didn't know it) to very special little concerts as they cleared away and did the dishes.

After-dinner cleanup (and, boy, have I missed their help) was always a time for the sisters-three to harmonize and TV's Yuletide showing of "White Christmas" would always find them echoing the Rosemary Clooney-Vera (what's-her-name?) version of "Sisters" plus the whole parcel of carols and seasonal ditties.

They also were great company (once "Y" got over her motion sickness and "O" and "M" settled their leg-room disputes) to have along on a trip. Again, depending on what locale we were traversing, we'd be serenaded for miles upon miles.

Enroute to Grandma's-house-in-Florida we'd get the Southern repertoire: "Take Me Home Country Roads" — "In the Blue Ridge Mountains of Virginia" — "Tennessee Waltz" — "Sweet Georgia Brown" — "Carolina in the Mornin'" — "Swanee River" — (and, yes, they DID know the words, from all my old sheet music.) As a finale, they'd usually wind up with "We're Almost There" whereEVER we were headed. The rest of the country got the same kind of treatment; those kids were country when country wasn't even luke-warm.

I miss pouring over the latest magazines with them or seeing them huddled together studying "Seventeen" or "Glamour", new-issue-time always being a dual event; you SHARED the glossy. And you were expected to comment on the way a model slunk or oozed sex or drooped and generated nothing. You had to join in the raves, too, as you discovered a really neat suit, dress, hairdo or piece of jewelry. It was no fun perusing a magazine solo — it had to be a joint effort.

I particularly miss those dinner-time rap sessions when each one bubbled over with so much to say and wanted to say it — all at the same time: the crazy thing that happened in school or on the bus, what the "smartest kid in the class" had to say, what that dopey Dudley Doright did to the teacher, what Maizie had to say about Daisie, what the fashion plate had on, who was dating whom — as they climbed the ladder from the grades up through high school. It was an education and great fun identifying with all that female chatter. BG didn't always comprehend some of the "inside" stuff and often raised his eyebrows at some cattiness but he, too, misses that old nightly banter.

Despite the fact we're not exactly on each others' doorsteps anymore, we DO manage to get together. And it's especially rewarding (and a great compliment) when one of them wants to spend some time with good ol' mom. This back-to-school season in particular brings back the times we'd spend (one girl at a time) hunting for new shoes and attempting to fill the voids in their wardrobes. Lunch, those cute gift shops, a snack or two and perhaps a movie — we'd do the whole schmeer.

Now I'm finding they look forward to and plan for re-runs of those activities when time allows. With "M" living the nearest we're able occasionally to squeeze in breakfast, an earlybird movie or dinner as her work/play schedule permits. "O" and "Y" are a bit out of reach but those 260 miles don't deter us. "Y" saw to it that we got in our togetherness during her recent return for a class reunion while "O" initiated a Kalamazoo rendezvous last week (three hours drive for her, two for me) which helped the city's economy, brought back college memories and put us "in touch" with each other — one-on-one — once again. (I also have a super (understanding) son-in-law.)

The gratifying part of daughters is you can pretty much be on the same wave length. And now that they're young women, there's a special rapport and deeper understanding between us.

Happiness is also... realizing your kids LIKE you.

VIRGO CELEBRITIES

Silver screen and television notables born the first day of this week, Aug. 29, range in age from 24 to 70 with Michael Jackson at the short end and Barry Sullivan at the "other." Stockholm-born Ingrid Bergman was 67 that day; George Montgomery, 66 and Elliott Gould, 44.

Honors on Monday went to 86-year-old Raymond (Abe Lincoln) Massey; 75-year-old Shirley (Hazel) Booth; 58-year-old Fred (My Three Sons) Mac Murray; and Elizabeth Ashley and Timothy Bottoms who were 41 and 31, respectively.

The end of the month is shared by the male quartet of James Coburn, 56; Buddy Hackett, 58; Richard Basehart, 63, and Arthur (the ol' redhead) Godfrey, 79.

Today a couple of warblers, Barry Gibb and Conway Twitty who differ in style and also in age, will count 36 and 49 candles on their respective birthday cakes.

Marge Champion at 59 will be the lone "name" celebrating tomorrow but on Sept. 3 several well-known ladies will be denying that they're 39 — Valerie Perrine; 47 — Eileen (Private Benjamin) Brennan; 56 — Anne Jackson; and 67 — Kitty Carlisle.

Sept. 4 is shared by someone we seldom hear of, Yvonne DeCarlo (the former Mrs. Munster) who'll be 60; and dancer-actress Mitzi Gaynor who'll be 52.

BETCHA DIDN'T KNOW

Although it's expected that career women read more magazines and newspapers and go out to dinner more frequently than do women who work entirely in their own homes, it is less expected (an ad agency study shows) that career women bake more cakes, cook more elaborate meals and garden more, too!

One in four American adults takes aspirin at least once a week. One in 18 takes sleeping pills that often.

Romulus youngster sings way to pageant runner-up

An eight-year-old Romulus resident, Nezula Sibert, was among 24 young people who vied for the title of "Little Miss Michigan" at the fourth annual pageant sponsored by "L" Lockett Enterprises of Detroit.

Competing in the 7-to-12-year-old class, Nezula in full costume and make-up, belted out "Tomorrow" from the Broadway production, "Annie" to earn her the first runner-up position. The Aug. 22 competition was held at Mercy College in Detroit.

Barb Stimach receives cosmetic firm honors

Barbara Stimach of Belleville, was given a special taste of Hollywood Aug. 3 when she was named as one of the year's top sales directors at the annual Mary Kay Cosmetics Seminar Awards Night pageant in the Dallas Convention Center.

Before 8,000 of her peers, Mrs. Stimach was called on stage and recognized for her exceptional accomplishments by company founder and Board Chairman Mary Kay Ash and other top executives and directors.

An independent sales director for the international cosmetics firm since 1978, Mrs. Stimach led her unit to a record sales level over the past year exceeding $250,000. For her outstanding achievement, she was awarded a unique diamond-studded bar pin displaying her unit's retail achievement and an engraved walnut plaque.

The legendary Seminar, representing the nation's largest corporate gathering of businesswomen, was extended this year to accommodate 23,000 independent sales consultants and directors during three independent sessions held back-to-back.

Each session consisted of three exhilarating days of education, motivation and recognition, highlighted by spectacularly staged entertainment features, including a performance by television host and singer John Davidson as well as the dazzling Awards Night pageant.

Mary Kay designed the multi-

million dollar Seminar as a "tribute to all the women who make Mary Kay Cosmetics successful."

In the past year, Mary Kay has awarded nearly $10 million worth of prizes in appreciation of the sales and recruitment efforts of more than 150,000 independent beauty consultants throughout the United States, Canada, Australia and South America.

Mary Kay consultants teach the scientific basis of total skin care and demonstrate a premium-quality line of skin, body and hair care products, toiletries and fragrances at small, private in-home shows.

our opinions

Schools enter challenging era

These are the times that try school administrations. They are faced with a do-or-die, can't run scare situation. In "good times" our school had problems; now, in the face of this country's worst economic era, they find themselves having to keep above water while they are being pulled under from all sides.

There is something morally wrong when a society doesn't provide enough to keep school doors open. Enough to pay its teachers and administrators. To close the doors on those whom we will look to in the next decade or two for leadership in government, science and medicine; to make this country strong and willing to carry out the principles upon which this great nation was founded.

Look around you - schools are in trouble in Westwood, Romulus, Van Buren, Wayne/Westland. The stability they reflected over a decade ago has tarnished due, we believe, to leaders who fail to lead; who preach instead of offering solutions.

Clearly the time has come to reorganize the financial structure and move away from property taxes as the basis of financing our schools. A few years ago, a state lottery was past on the pretext that the funds were to be earmarked for our schools - the legislators found a windfall and quickly stuffed the millions into the General Fund.

Now, the state is bankrupt - some $600,000 million in the hole and sinking fast. State aid to the schools for the month of August has been deferred and school financial directors admit they don't expect to see those checks coming from Lansing soon, if ever.

With more than 250,000 auto workers - the backbone of this state - waiting in unemployment lines, clearly there is no immediate solution in sight, not even that proverbial light at the end of the tunnel.

Better we stop right here and say, "forget it". But the problem won't disappear. It will still be there in the morn and when the school doors open. In many districts, the doors won't open at all.

Someone once wrote that a "poor solution to a problem is like no solution."

And, although we can't offer an immediate solution to the problem, may we wonder aloud for a moment?

What if school districts were permitted to keep the entire share of taxes generated from residential and farm properties within their school district, but taxes levied from commercial and industrial properties would go to the state, which would then allocate the monies as needed?

What if the millage rates of all school districts were the same across the state so that property owners in Westland wouldn't have to pay 49 mills while those in Huron Township pay 44? Wouldn't this be a fairer way to tax homeowners so that they wouldn't have to move from one "high-tax" district to another that levies a lower tax?

Surely, with all the wisdom we have gathered in Lansing, someone can devise a better, fairer tax structure than the one we presently use.

Writer calls Van Buren board meeting a farce

If the voters of Van Buren Township were unhappy with the actions of the five members of the Town Board who were recalled at the August 10, 1982 Primary Election they would have been scandalized had they attended the August 24, 1982, Town Board meeting.

In our opinion the meeting was a farce and any action taken by the four Van Buren Township residents (1 elected and 3 appointed) should be deleted from the record.

The chairman of the meeting (an elected official, with two more years to serve), committed too numerous faux pas to list. A few include:

1—The chairman did not follow the agenda.
2—The chairman allowed an appointed individual sitting on the Board address the meeting in a non-professional manner. The latter also made invidious remarks unbecoming a so-called Board member.

3—The chairman also gave his opinion on personal restrictions for appointment to an Interim Board to serve until the General Election in November. These restrictions would, in our opinion, disallow at the least three thousand Van Buren residents from applying for appointment to the Interim Board.

If this type of "shenanigans" continue we doubt that Van Buren Township will continue as such and before the General Election will "slide" into Belleville Lake and be "lost" forever.

For Van Buren Township's sake we hope the residents will "rise" up and take the reigns of government in their own hands and out of the "hands" of non-professional individuals who, in our opinion, have made Van Buren Township the object of ridicule within the State of Michigan.

Prior to the Primary Recall Election in Van Buren Township the Board members were classified as "clowns" and Board meetings a "circus".

If the first meeting held after the Primary Recall Election is a criterion of meetings to come we feel that the non-professional attitude of those in charge can be classified as a "disaster".

School millage crucial

The Romulus Parents Area Council as you know, is a group dedicated to the enrichment of the educational process in Romulus in whatever way can possibly be done. As a newly formed group, we are truly striving to represent all parents from the entire community; therefore, when you select delegates to the Romulus Parents Area Council, you make this council an actual voice of the parents of Romulus. As the voice of Romulus Parents, R.P.A.C. is a force through which many things can be achieved in education, but before it is possible to enrich education, first there MUST BE EDUCATION.

R.P.A.C. is a non-profit, non-partisan, and non-political organization. However, we feel that when it comes to this millage renewal, it is in everyone in the community's best interest to get out and do what must be done to get it passed. Therefore, our immediate goal has got to be to work with the Board of Education, the Administration, and the rest of the community leaders in order to pass the millage renewal.

We intend to do the following things to demonstrate our community support:

(1) We are going to distribute flyers throughout Romulus to help give our residents the facts concerning this renewal.

(2) We are going to march in the Labor Day Parade on September 3, 1982 in the hopes that it will bring attention to our children's needs.

(3) On September 9, 1982, we are sponsoring a "Fact Night" (similar to the one held prior to the bond election) at the High School so that the public can ask questions of the administration, Board of Education and other officials present at the meeting.

We are going to join with the Board of Education and Administration in attending as many meetings with community leaders as possible and we ask you, as leaders of your own groups, to go back to your membership and join with us in support of the renewal.

Try to have your first meetings before the election or have a special meeting. Do all that you can to be sure that your membership, and neighborhoods are well informed about this information you have received and also be sure to get your delegates selected for the Romulus Parents Area Council this year.

We need you and so does Romulus Schools!

It was an early morning call a few days after the elections and the question was discreetly placed before us: "Do you know," the caller said, "that some people have been offering me sympathy because of my defeat in the primary?"

The voice belonged to Milt Mack who, for the past six months has been waging a battle to win the Democratic nomination for the County Commissioner's seat from the 11th county district.

Now how can that be?

Mack did win and will face Canton Township trustee Loren Bennett, in November for the newly-aligned district's seat. While Bennett, a Republican, was devoid of any serious opposition, Mack waged an up-hill battle to defeat a strong contender, Doug Ritter, of Canton for the nomination.

So, why were his (Mack's followers) offering sympathy?

"It seems that one of the dailies and your newspaper had published only partial results and people didn't see the complete tally," Mack explained. "And in some areas, of course, the results showed me trailing."

The same can be said for the other elected officers. Even in this computer age, and in this age where TV political experts can tell you 15 minutes after the polls close "so and so is the projected winner," the final tabulation is what counts.

But Mack, an attorney who serves on the Wayne City Council, is definitely the winner. And he is not going to underestimate his Republican opposition although the district has been faithfully Democratic since time in memoriam.

But why would anyone want the job?

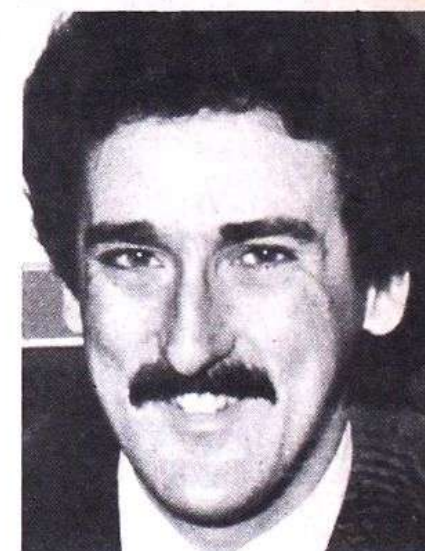

Many in the county have abandoned ship and rushed for lifeboats after seeing the huge deficits ($17.2 million and rising), the impregnable interest groups and the city (Detroit) vs suburbs duels that have been waged over the years at the county seat.

"I will not bend to pressure or interest groups," said Mack, "and that is why I think people want me to represent them."

"I know there is a lot of work ahead for those who are elected, and I am ready for that challenge."

How do you stop a guy like that anyway?

You don't.

Sound accounting practices key to restoring state's image

By R. ROBERT GEAKE
Assistant Republican Floor
Leader Michigan State Senate

It is no secret that Michigan is mired in a financial morass.

For the past three years, 10 percent of the entire state budget has been borrowed to make school aid payments for the first quarter of each financial year.

We start out each year in debt, and struggle throughout the rest of the year to recoup. The struggle of Michigan to gain release from the swamp of debt has been well publicized throughout the country as tales of high unemployment and low credit ratings are circulated in the media.

In order to restore both outside confidence in Michigan as a viable credit risk and inside economic and employment stability, I, as a member of the Senate Appropriations Committee, will be urging the adoption of a sane, sound, and realistic budget.

Michigan's much publicized woes reached a peak late last spring when our credit rating was dropped by a major investment service. The cry spread throughout the land that our state is a potentially heavy credit risk to potential investors; Moody's Investment Service downgraded Michigan's credit rating to the lowest rating given any state for short-term notes — MIG 3, on a scale of 4.

Our long-term rating was also lowered one level from Moody's "A" to "Baa1," again the lowest rating possible. Interest levels and investor confidence were negatively influenced by our plunge into the credit cellar; now we are faced with a $150 million Executive Order cutting still further into our finances.

and undercutting any vestige of faith the investment community retains in Michigan as a suitable investment risk.

Local governing units and K-12 schools, as well as colleges and universities, may again absorb the greatest impact from not only the cuts themselves, but the erosion of confidence the cuts bring. Since each local body is regarded as part of the state, and borrows money as a satellite of state government, these small municipal and educational units will suffer the same negative image and increased borrowing costs as the state itself. School aid payments for this fall are definitely in jeopardy.

To waylay the crash in Michigan's credit rating last spring, an immediate temporary income tax, which I opposed, was instituted to quickly balance the state budget, in order to allow Michigan loan-seekers some semblance of a sound fiscal foundation when appealing to New York investors for construction bonds. However, Moody's wasn't impressed by the suddenly balanced budget; a Moody's spokesperson said that the temporary state income tax increase "will have no bearing on Michigan's credit rating. It doesn't address the long-term revenue needs" necessary for financial recovery. Moody's directly referred to the "temporary device" used to plug dollars into the flooding dikes of Michigan's financial deluge. Now, with the new Executive Order hanging over our heads, the credit rating may be dropped so low as to preclude the possibility of our borrowing any money at all, at any interest rate.

The key to restoring confidence both here in Michigan and on Wall Street is a budget constructed by sound accounting practices. We must reflect an accurate and responsible picture of the state's finances, by reverting from an accrual accounting policy to one based on the cold, hard cash we have at hand. Before we get into even deeper financial waters, the state must convince the entire investment community that stop-gap measures will be jettisoned and sound fiscal practices instituted.

Budget proposals designed to rescue Michigan have been labeled "gimmickry" by financial analysts. These proposals have been overly optimistic in their touted effects on the financial destiny of the state, and display a certain lack of soundness and foresightedness.

It is time for the state to be realistic, fiscally sophisticated, and forthright in assessing financial conditions both present and future. Optimism is of course a virtue, but common sense must prevail. The only effective weapon Michigan has in its arsenal against bankruptcy is a tightly-constructed budget that is stripped of all extravagances.

Should the Republican party gain control of the Senate this fall, and therefore of the Appropriations Committee, I, as the ranking Republican member of that Committee envision just such a lean, judicious, and prudent financial policy becoming the cornerstone for the future solvency of this state.

Those who ignore the past are condemned to repeat it; our past mishandling of our state's finances must teach us new lessons for the future.

V-B candidate asks questions

EDITOR — May I as a taxpayer and resident of Van Buren address some of my concerns to the taxpayers and residents of this township?

I would like to raise some pertinent questions:

— Our Senior Citizens have voiced complaints about their program. To me, an up-to-date evaluation is necessary to bring about programs to suit the senior's requirements.

— Our Community expended in excess of $5,000 to Bartel Associates for their Professional Services in Police Department Planning. I would like to see a published report in this paper of their recommendations and findings. There is still much uncertainty in this area.

— In what direction is the Township Recreation Program headed? Where does it stand now?

— What solutions were brought about by the local Toxic Waste Hearings. Was anything resolved with the DNR? If so, what?

As a candidate, these are the topics to which I will seek answers. If any resident has input, or wish to express their views on these topics, please voice them, for the recovery of Van Buren Township is the only priority on my agenda.

On capital punishment

EDITOR — I would like to know where a recent writer gets his information?

Such as that of the conclusions over the past few decades that over 10 percent of those executed were later found to be innocent.

Capital punishment will deter crime and especially for those executed. I doubt if there is a documented case where some one executed has later been found to be innocent, but over 10 percent sheer nonsense!

W-W trustee is criticized

EDITOR — Dewey Combs should explain why he voted no at the special meeting of the Wayne-Westland Community Schools Board of Education Wednesday August 18, 1982.

The meeting was called by the Board of Education to serve notice of layoff intentions on several employee groups who would not voluntarily agree to wage concessions, thus enabling the Board to balance its budget and give citizens some tax relief.

Mr. Combs voted no on laying off employees as a means of gaining wage concessions. Perhaps Mr. Combs has another motive — the economic protection of two members of his family who are employees of the district, and would be affected by the layoff or concession agreements?

Is this a conflict of interest on his part?

Superintendent Tim Dyer and members of the Board of Education who took this action of layoffs as a means of gaining economic concessions should be applauded for their efforts. Combs, in addition to an apparent conflict of interest on his part, has shown to the public fiscal irresponsibility to the schools and to the tax paying citizens of Westland. The public can only conclude that he is not interested in fiscal integrity and taxpayer relief. Could it be that the recall movement directed at other

Board members is misdirected, and should be aimed at him for his conflict of interest vote and fiscal irresponsibility?

Certainly, as a public employee, in the Westland Police Department, he must understand public employee concessions during these tough economic times. Does his "no" vote also reflect his position as a public employee in the police department? Could it be that he believes in a double standard?

Mr. Combs' actions leave the citizens wondering about their decision to put him on the Board. He owes all taxpayers in Westland an explanation. We await his reply!

Westlander likes schools

EDITOR — I am support of S. O.C. (Save our Community).

This letter is concerning a very serious and important decision to be made September 14 in relationship to a recall which has been filed against four members of the Wayne-Westland Board of Education.

There should not be any recall. I personally believe this recall is more personal than business matter. Remember why you are on the Board of Education, for the education welfare for every child and young adult in Wayne-Westland School System.

I have gone to Wayne-Westland Schools and I was always proud to tell anyone what school I went to. We (my husband and I) have two daughters who go to Westland Schools. A couple years ago we were thinking about moving to Plymouth, when I checked in to their school system, we changed our minds real fast.

Wayne-Westland still has a great school system, but if this recall goes through you and I better forget about our great system. This recall would cost the taxpayers from $50,000.00 to $70,000.00. Money that could be used for other good reasons, and not foolish ones.

Destruction caused by such action has the potential of severely damaging our community, school district and property values. Political action that has taken place in other school districts in the area has virtually damaged not only the school district, but also the value and reputation of the community.

This has directly affected the tax payers and property owners of those communities. Example: Taylor School System is really mixed up and the students and tax payers are paying for it. (Please note: I do not have anything against Taylor).

Community College is a great idea! Where else in Michigan can a young adult after high school go to Community College and pay nothing? Just think, two years of education for nothing. I am now going to college and it is costing me about $1,800.00 to $2,000.00 per year. (There is a age limit of 20 years old).

As far as the new Timothy Dyer Administration Building, we needed something new. It will save on energy cost, the old cement was falling out the building, everything is so much better! This new Administration Building was paid by Federal Funds. The money was in Washington doing nothing until Dyer asked for the money and we received it. If the money was not sent here some other state would have received it. I believe Dyer has done a great job for our community. If you do not like the job he is doing, fine. If you have education and brave enough to take the job and do it as good Dyer has done, please take it!

If anyone does not like a Board Member with Wayne-Westland School System do not vote for them again. It is that easy.

There's quality education in W-W

EDITOR — I would appreciate your printing the following open letter to your readers in the next publication.

As a former resident of Wayne and an active supporter of our Wayne-Westland educational system, I was dismayed but not surprised to learn of the citizens' action to recall the top executives of our educational system.

Now that I again reside within this school district and wish to resume my involvement in the educational system, I was faced with "taking sides" to maintain the quality standard of education within our schools.

I found myself resuming my loyalties to those responsible for formulating and implementing an excellent educational system that provided my children with a strong and diversified base in which they have built upon. In fairness to my value system and professional standards, I also queried about the information set forth in support of the school board recall.

I do not support a major turn over of any executive board with this responsibility as it creates nonproductive, nonproductive executive direction for an extended period of time. Simply, there exists no knowledgeable or experienced support system for the multitude of "newcomers."

Although, I also could not support a system that could jeopardize the present quality of education afforded my children.

After the recent televised forum of governor candidates, a simple and I'm certain well known fact was presented — state subsidy to education has declined by 40 percent in approximately the last five years.

With this information and by asking myself but one question, I have erased the ambivalent feelings I had in regards to the direction of my support. The question: has our school system continued to maintain a quality standard of education throughout the cut-backs? The answer: Yes. Additionally, they have continued to grow and provide valuable and exceptional services to our children and our community.

I conclude that the majority have been doing something right for us.

W-W recall is unreasonable

EDITOR — The Westland-Wayne School District is at it again.

Whenever citizen groups or taxpayers unite in opposition to a school issue the School District counter-attacks, undermining taxpayer's concerns.

Despite the fact that the School District is still licking its wounds over Dewey Combs winning the School Board race, the School District is raising an offensive against the recall of four Board members — four Board members who no longer feel a need to represent the taxpayer.

The four Board members are appealing to the district teachers and administrators to save their four seats.

The district has responded by holding "Teas" and $20.00 parties for people with a sympathetic ear.

At the parties they layout strategy to protect the four Board members who represent the majority on the Board.

Moreover, as the School District does at millage-time, they talk money.

The district attempts to baffle taxpayers, saying the recall election costs money, but neglect to point out that the four Board members are costing taxpayers much more money than an election ever would.

Taxpayers, we have one chance to show how dissatisfied we are with the School Board — Let's use it to best advantage and reestablish our voice in school issues.

reflections

'Contrariness in life'

BOISE, IDAHO — Annie Claire is a sprite of a child, eighteen months old, and my grand niece. Her favorite word is 'no' and she uses it to the delight of her great aunts and the consternation of her mother.

Her grandmother is a bit ambiguous about it, alternating between being proud of the smarts the little kid has, and embarrassment because she chooses awkward moments to show how brainy she is.

Being full of wisdom since I got all this white hair, and because I am the oldest one here, I tell everyone who will listen that it is just a phase the little one is going through.

Her youngest aunt says she is contrary.

And she may be right. In fact she probably is right, because if one would only stop to think, contrariness is an inherent part of human nature. It probably enters into the personality about the time the child is conceived and that which is to become a child is debating about whether to be a boy or a girl.

And as everyone knows who has ever had a child, if one of the parents is determined to have a boy, sure as shooting the fetus changes into a girl.

Contrariness stays with the personality throughout its life. That is probably how come psychology came into being.

Some mother or father, who had a college education and a few kids, soon found out that one has to be a good manipulator of the mind to get a kid grown to maturity with at least one parent retaining his sanity.

So a science was born.

I had a little kid who used to hang around the kitchen, draped over the table chomping on apples, waiting for me to say 'no' to something, so he would know what he could do on a hot sunny afternoon to keep from being bored.

The older a person gets the more contrary he becomes. Just ask anyone who has made it to maturity and is now watching over an elderly mother or father.

"He's contrary as an old mule," I once heard a fellow say after he had just lost a verbal battle with his 70 year old father over where to get the father's reading glasses. The father felt that $7.95 was more than enough to pay to see with and he could get that in the dime store. And he did.

My sister had a father-in-law, who at 82 still drove himself wherever he wanted to go. He disdained all offers of assistance, and went whizzing down the highway with the aplomb of a teenager.

One evening my sister rode with him to Caldwell, the college town of our birth. Right in the middle of the highway her father-in-law decided to make a left hand turn which he did with motorists coming toward him screeching to a halt, and motorists behind him swerving and cussing with a lot of vim and vigor.

JOYCE HAGELTHORN

My sister was scared witless, and when she finally crawled out of his car at her home she told her husband about it. Her husband went over to his father and asked, "Hey, dad, you got anything against signalling when you are going to make a left hand turn into traffic?"

"Hell, yes," the old guy answered. "It's nobody's gold-durned business which way I'm going to turn."

Probably the only time when one isn't deemed contrary is when he is somewhere between diapers and dime-store glasses. And the only reason I say that is because that is where I am.

And let no one dare say I'm being contrary in refusing to recognize the need for dime-store glasses!

when a situation is serious enough to warrant it.

But who is to say how serious the situation has to be? Is that spelled out somewhere?

If a few people get disgusted enough to pass around a petition, which is then duly signed by a few hundred people, is that proof enough of an entire community's dissatisfaction? I've known people who would sign their names to bread wrappers without so much as a wonder why.

Recall is an expensive, disrupting procedure best left as it was originally intended: As the most drastic of final measures.

I've seen it used (or abused) instead as a way of getting rid of people who don't follow certain lines of thought, or even as a way of furthering a political career.

It's becoming a ridiculous and dangerous fad and it's time to look at what we have left after the hoopla of the recall is over with. If life really that much better?

It's time to look, too, at the perpetrators of the one-issue recalls. What are their motives? And who is governing them?

mona grigg

Who recalls the recallers?

A few years back (yes, it was before Watergate, now that I think of it), a person never even heard the word "recall". Not in the sense that it meant threatening to take an elected person's job away.

Now — around here, anyway — an elected person hardly dares vote for fear someone will get mad and take a notion to pass around mean petitions with his or her name on it.

There was a time when an elected person knew what the boundaries were: As long as he steered clear of the three "feasances", mis-mal-, and non-, he was pretty much all right.

Not so anymore, it seems. Now you can be threatened with recall if you sit on a board that hires someone who turns out not to be the person you thought he was.

Or if you allow trash to be burned where people don't want trash to be burned.

Or if you give teachers a raise before you really have to.

Or if you allow homes for the retarded to be in places where people live.

Or if you allow an old golf course with a tacky bar to become a nice place for families and kids.

Or if you even mention a city-owned cable system.

In short, if you sit on a board and agree to something that more than a dozen people disagree with, you are at the mercy of the recallers.

There has never been a time in history when the populace always agreed with the electeds. That's why we have open meetings.

More often than not, the electeds disappoint us.

Sometimes they make dumb mistakes. (Translation: They do something contrary to what we think we would have done in their place.)

Sometimes they sell out (or seem to have sold out) to the very system they're supposed to be protecting us from. Thereafter, no matter what, we'll never believe they aren't administration's babies.

Maybe they sell out (or seem to have sold out) to a pressure group. If it's a pressure group that doesn't include us, either by choice or by omission, our feelings are hurt. They were supposed to be our babies. We voted them in, didn't we?

It's a quirk in our natures that allows us to assume that, since we happened to cast one lucky vote and our man is in, he will never, from the moment he takes office, ever go against us. It has something to do with our egos and not much else.

Egos notwithstanding, what can we expect from the people we elect, anyway? Who is the "us" they're never supposed to go against? You, me, the guy next door? What if the guy next door doesn't happen to agree with you and me? What if he agrees, instead, with the guy we gave our lucky vote to and who went against us anyway?

Who is right?

To recall an elected body — or an individual — on the strength of one or even two issues is as absurd as voting someone into office on the strength of one or even two issues.

We, as citizens, have a right to rant, rave and bellow whenever we find that the electeds have gone against us. We can express ourselves at open meetings. We can spread the word by asking the newspapers to present both sides of the disagreement. We can write letters to the editors. We can form coalitions (pressure groups, if you will) to provide strength in numbers. And we can surely vote the bad guys out the next time around.

But have we the right, every time an issue becomes heated, to threaten recall? Recall is a right given to us by our constitution. We can use it (or the threat of it)

Cyprus Gardens

Greek cuisine featured at this Canton Township 'original'

By DENNIS NIEMIEC
Feature Editor
Cyprus Gardens' owner Steve

Stylianou is an original, in more ways than one. His Greek cuisine restaurant, located in Canton's Harvard Square Shopping Center at 5830 Sheldon, was the first establishment of its kind in the township, opening in 1976.

Stylianou, a native of Cyprus, has literally dedicated his life to the restaurant, maintaining a seven-days-a-week work schedule that would devastate most. This well known businessman recalls three vacation days in the past 13 years while opening and closing his restaurant on a daily basis.

The result of his efforts?

Well, if our visit to Cyprus Gardens last week is any indication, only a depressed economy can defeat Stylianou. The food and beverages certainly won't.

Cyprus Gardens offers 175 entrees on its breakfast, lunch and dinner menus, served in a meticulously clean dining area that seats 100. An adjoining banquet room has a capacity of 180.

We began dinner with a plate of Saganaki, flaming Greek cheese sauteed in olive oil then flamed in a shot of vodka and finally cooled with lemon juice. It proved to be a light appetizer, tasty but not filling.

Next came the small Grecian salad, a lovely combination of fresh garden greens, beets, tomato wedges, olives, onions and feta cheese topped with an olive oil dressing. Stylianou noted that he purchases all fresh ingredients at a nearby farmer's market.

For dinner we selected one of our specials this evening — the roast leg of lamb, including potatoes, fried zucchini and freshly baked bread for the moderate price of $5.95. Other specials were roast pork ($4.95) with dressing, corn on the cob or fried zucchini; baked chicken ($4.50) with rice pilaf and fresh string beans, and a ground sirloin steak (seven ounces — $4.25) with sauteed onions, choice of potato or vegetable. Tossed salads are included in the meal.

The lamb was succulent and plentiful, with a taste that one can expect only from the finest Greek eateries. As with all entrees at Cyprus Gardens, the lamb is prepared by Stylianou, whose culinary background features a 3½-year stint at an international cooking school in England.

"Everything is homemade," Stylianou declared. "We cut our own meats, buy fresh vegetables, ... nothing is frozen here but the ice cream."

"We've kept our prices low because people cannot afford to eat out like they used to," he added. "Our business has been affected by the economy as have many businesses."

A brief look at Cyprus Gardens' extensive menu reveals a diversified selection of Greek, American and Italian favorites as well as steaks, seafood, sandwiches, breakfast offerings — and desserts.

Grecian dishes range from Pastitsio ($3.95), a mixture of macaroni, chopped meat and cream cheese sauce, to the Combination Platter ($8.25) of lamb, mousaka, (See GREEK — Page B-3)

PAYOLAS
"No Stranger To Danger"
(A&M)

The Payolas are a very strong new rock 'n' roll band in the tradition of Mott The Hoople at their best. It's not surprising, therefore, in the band's choice of former Mott/Ian Hunter cohort Mick Ronson as the producer of their latest album. It is, as they say, a perfect fit.

"No Stranger To Danger" is quite an improvement over the band's debut LP, and this is to Ronson's credit. The hard-edged rock has been smoothed over just enough, and it's been left with all energy intact.

Vocalist Paul Hyde's voice has a dual personality all to itself — and those belong to Neil Diamond and Ian Hunter, who Hyde alternately sounds like. Seriously, his voice does have a remarkable likeness to both of those mentioned, but it stands up very well on its own. Particularly if you like Neil Diamond and Ian Hunter...

The songs are nearly all top-notch, with a few standing higher than the others. "Youth" is the album's anthem, from its raging guitars to its subject matter: "It's one more picture on the six o'clock news And someone lit a fire at the bottom of the road And it's fueled with hate and it's ready to explode. Youth, burning youth."

Pretty heady stuff for four guys from Vancouver.

Mick Ronson's keyboards (he plays no guitar on the album, only keyboards) add to the fun in "Romance," which borrows a bit lyrically from Mott's "All The Young Dudes," but it's all in fun so who cares.

"Some Old Song" has one of the catchiest riffs I've heard in awhile, as Bob Rock's guitar runs rampant through the rhythm section of Chris Taylor and Lawrence Wilkins, as Hyde tells the story of a groupie who latched onto a guitar hero — "He said 'I'm the spotlight, you're the crowd, I like to hear my name out loud —'"

Other potential hits are "Pennies Into Gold," a ballad very much in the Ian Hunter vein, only better, and the reggaeish "Lights To Change," which is a reggae song for people who don't like reggae and want something more than the Police has to offer.

The Payolas. They could be Canada's biggest export since 222.s and Bob & Doug.

Westland wins state softball championship

Malarkey's field best coed team in Michigan

On any summer evening in any city in Michigan, lights illuminate softball fields and teams engage in a lively battle for supremacy in local leagues as fans, families and friends lend vocal encouragement. It's a familiar scenario which has been repeated innumerable times since the early 1970s when interest in softball sky-rocketed over night. Since then, leagues for men and women have mushroomed and there's no end in sight. In recent years, a new dimension — coed softball — has been added, which affords men and women the opportunity to compete together, instead of in separate leagues. Coed softball has been slow to catch on in metro-Detroit, but in out-state areas, the sport is quite popular. Although participation in coed softball in suburban Detroit is still rather limited, one local team — Malarkey's Pub of Westland — has already made a reputation for itself in state and local competition, as well as in national play. Malarkey's, a tournament team which doesn't complete in any organized league, is composed of about 25 players from Dearborn, Wayne, Westland, Garden City and Ann Arbor. "All the players on this team play in either men's or women's leagues in their own city," explained manager John Kerr. "Those teams occasionally go to tournaments on the weekends, too, so on any given weekend, our coed team is restricted to the players not committed elsewhere." Despite the restrictions, Malarkey's has compiled an impressive record during the past two seasons, entering seven tournaments — six in Michigan — and winning six of them. The one tournament the team didn't win was the U.S.S.A. (United States slow-pitch softball association) Mixed National Tournament in Virginia last September. "We lost our first game in Virginia," explained Kerr, "and fell into the loser's bracket. Then we won six games in a row before being eliminated. There were 63 teams in the tournament and we finished seventh, so we really didn't feel too badly." This summer, Malarkey's entered and won tournaments in Freeport in June and Cadillac in July. In addition, the team took top (See SOFTBALL, Page B-5)

Anderson softball tourney champions

Wayne's Class A softball clubs 'leave best for last'

Wayne softball league teams left their best for the last. Take the thriller between Schewe's and Pittman's.

The two Class A archrivals battled right down to the wire before Schewe's pulled out an extra inning 8-7 cliffhanger to oust Pittman's from the playoffs.

Pittman's didn't get on the scoreboard until the fifth inning when they exploded for four runs to come within a tally of tying it up. They did just that in the bottom of the seventh only to lose it when they replied to Schewe's three runs in the eighth with two of their own.

Greg Schewe latched on to three hits, including a double for the winners, while Terry Patterson collected three singles as did Gary Mason for the losers. Mike Killingbeck hammered a homer and also had two singles and three RBIs for the losers who had put an end to Jake's hopes, 9-3.

In that game Pittman's raced ahead 7-1 and never looked back as Killingbeck again was the triggerman in the rout. He chipped in with three hits, including a double. Rick and Steve Pittman added two and three hits, respectively.

Jake's received three hits and three RBIs from veteran, Tom Wilmot who was the mainstay of the loser's offense.

In other Class A action, Schewe's nailed Greg's 126 was Killingbeck clubbed three homers and rove in eight runs. Greg's got a homer each from Terry Johnson and Don Carter who also accounted for three RBIs.

Romulus Class B action

Waltz claims playoff title

Waltz Garage erupted for seven runs in the first inning and held off Silver Bar 15-12 to capture the 1982 Romulus Parks and Recreation Class B men's softball playoff title. With Rick Pokerswinski working five innings and Stan Brown the last two, the playoff champs had their problems in the late innings when Silver Bar came back from a 10-3 deficit to score four times in each of the two final frames.

Brown helped his cause with a homer and three runs driven in, while Tim Abranski slugged a homer, doubled and singled for four RBIs. Teammate Rick Cram chipped in with five RBIs on a roundtripper, double and a pair of singles off of loser Scott Knight.

Bobby Coffee paced the losers with four hits, including a double and three runs batted in. Bob Hower and Cal Veddard split six hits.

In the semi-final round, Waltz was forced to come-from-behind to claim a 10-5 decision over Silver Bar which held a 3-1 edge after three innings. But the playoff champs scored five times in the fifth and made those runs stand up for the victory.

Pokerswinski again wielded a "hot bat" as he clubbed three hits, including a homer, and drove in three runs. Cram belted a double and homer while George Karpinski and Eddie Lucius accounted for three and two hits, respectively.

Winning pitcher Pokerswinski gave up a total of nine hits, including three to Veddard. Rick Hower slammed a triple and single while Norm Kent chased home two runs.

In earlier playoff confrontations, Waltz sustained an unexpected 14-2 setback at the hands of Anglin's which pounded out 22 hits to key pitcher Steve Pelc 10-hitter. Don Leszczyński proved to be loser Ken Lakaska's downfall as he single-handedly accounted for five runs batted in thanks to a circuit clout, a double and two singles. Mike McCloskey and George Jones each had three hits.

Pelc delivered three hits to Lou Bryant while Karpinski laced two singles and Abramski's two-bagger drove in one of the two Waltz' runs.

Silver Bar made it to the semi-finals with a narrow 3-2 victory over All-Star Excavating who lost the defensive gem when Silver Bar scored a run in the top of the seventh to break a two-all deadlock. Brad Phillips knocked in both All-

Star runs with a double and Ron Modrelski had a triple and single while Bob Watts finished the season with a pair of singles.

Watts, the loser, gave up a pair of singles to Norm Kent, and a run-scoring base hit to Rick Hower.

Royals roll to Canton 'C' crown

The Royals, Canton's champions from Division Three in the regular season, swept to the Class "C" playoff title with a come-back double victory over Ed's Sports Equipment Sales.

Earlier in the tournament, Ed's had defeated the Royals 10-3 to advance to the finals.

The defeat was the first loss for the Royals after going undefeated the regular season.

The Royals were paced by the hitting of Bob Keenman, Mike Devlin, and Ron Keenman.

The 24-1 finale capped the Royals' season as they scored in every inning except the third.

To advance to the finals, the Royals defeated Oakview Party Store, and Ventcon before losing to Ed's the first time around.

Ed's Sports had made a great run at the title with victories over Target Party Sales, C & M Truck Collision, Lucilles and the Royals.

Also, in the final game, Ron Keenman had 7 RBI's, Bob Keenman had 4 RBI's on 6 hits and Dave Kilty, after being intentionally walked 11 times, finally got a chance to hit and promptly hit a homer.

Belknap Tools/Canton Sports added the Class "B" playoff championship by defeating Evan's Corporation 18-4 in the finals.

Powered by home runs from Vince Albany and Jim Tass and 3 hits from Mike Smith, they broke the game open with 5 runs in the second inning and 6 more in the third.

Belknap Tools/Canton Sports had earlier defeated Jakes Lounge 12-4, G.V. Tile 15-0 and Evans Corporation 9-5 in the double elimination playoff. Evans Corporation, the Division Two champion during the regular season, was paced by the hitting of Bill Howe and Tim Rapson.

Softball teams needed

The Canton Parks and Recreation Department is seeking softball teams for its fall softball league which will begin competition in mid-September.

The five-week schedule includes games twice a week. Games will be played on Monday and Wednesday or Tuesday and Thursday. There is a $125 per team registration fee.

A sponsors' trophy will be awarded to the two divisional champs.

For further information, contact the recreation department at 397-1000 between 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m.

Romulus seeks officials

The Romulus Parks and Recreation Department is seeking officials for its volleyball and basketball leagues. Persons interested should contact the parks and recreation department at 941-0666.

The rec. department also will organize a clinic to help officials brush up on and improve skills.

ANP to publish prep grid previews

To those athletic directors who have yet to mail in the 1982 fall football schedules — the Associated Newspapers' sports staff is eagerly awaiting to hear from them.

ANP will resume its coverage of the high school sports scene with its annual Special Prep Grid Preview with photos and stories about your favorite teams.

Coaches are urged to contact the sports desk over the weekend by telephoning 729-4000. All prep schedules also should be mailed (or dropped off) to Associated Newspapers, Sports Department, 35540 Michigan Ave., Wayne, Michigan, 48184.

Armed Forces

Lt. Nauer is assigned to Space Command

First Lt. David J. Nauer, son of John J. and Loretta B. Nauer of 6637 Hitchingham Road, Ypsilanti, is a charter member of the Air Force's new major command-the Space Command.

The Space Command, established Sept. 1 with headquarters in Colorado Springs, Colo., will manage and control assigned operational space assets and provide a link between research and development activities and operational users for Air Force space programs.

Nauer is a space systems analyst at Cheyenne Mountain Complex, Colo.

His wife, Karen, is the daughter of Harry and Barbara Rooks of 6550 Haggerty Road, Belleville.

Richard A. Cooper Jr., son of Richard A. Cooper Sr. of 1324 Henri St., Newport, and Mrs. Thomas E. Rowlett of 17707 Telegraph, Romulus, has been appointed a sergeant in the U.S. Air Force.

The new non-commissioned officer completed training in management, in leadership, human relations and NCO responsibilities, before being awarded this status.

Cooper is an aircrew egress systems mechanic at Plattsburgh Air Force Base, N.Y., with the 380th Field Maintenance Squadron.

His wife, Lorrie, is the daughter of Edward and Poullett Corrow of 145 McGauley Ave., Plattsburgh.

Airman Ricky E. Krzesinski, son of George J. and Gene A. Krzesinski of 49904 W. Huron River Drive, Belleville, has completed Air Force basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas.

The airman, who is remaining at Lackland for specialized training in the security police field, studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special instruction in human relations.

Completion of this training earned the individual credits toward an associate degree in applied science through the Community College of the Air Force.

His wife, Hazel, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Derek Perkins of 1640 Bunker Hill, Ann Arbor, Mich.

Airman 1st Class Robert Martell, son of Reynaldo and Rachel Martell of 42207 Hayes, Belleville, has graduated from the U.S. Air Force security police specialist course at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas.

Graduates of the course studied security and law enforcement and earned credits toward an associate degree in applied science through the Community College of the Air Force.

Martell will now serve at Castle Air Force Base, Calif.

Sgt. Gerald J. Foster, son of James J. Foster of 317 Liberty St., Petoskey, and Betty L. Foster of 1118 Rush St., also of Petoskey, has participated in an Air Force Strategic Air Command (SAC) exercise called Global Shield 82.

Foster, an aircraft maintenance specialist with the 410th Organizational Maintenance Squadron, K.I. Sawyer Air Force Base, joined others from all SAC units in the United States and selected Air Force Reserve and Air National Guard units to take part in command post and field training exercises.

Global Shield 82 was the fourth such exercise held by the command in as many years. It was designed to enhance readiness and the ability of the command to carry out orders which support U.S. national policy, should deterrence fail.

His wife, Terry, is the daughter of John and Jacki of 1875 Whipple Road, Carleton.

Pvt. Cormick B. Bailey, son of Autry L. and Alice E. Bailey of 188 W. Newport Road, Newport, has completed the Army's construction equipment repair specialist course, Level I, at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

The course trained the soldier in repairing diesel engines, fuel systems, and such components as transmissions, brakes and Hydraulic networks.

His wife, Deborah, is the daughter of Joe and Helen Folding of 9431 Grafton Road, Carleton.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Brian A. Walters is an Attorney at Law engaged in the general practice of law in Van Buren Township. He is a 1977 graduate of Oakland University and received his Juris Doctorate from Detroit College of Law in 1980. While attending law school he clerked for the Chief Judge of the 14th District Court and worked for the Consumer Protection Agency of Wayne County. If you have legal questions, please write Mr. Walters in care of Associated Newspapers, Inc., 35540 Michigan Ave., Wayne, Michigan. His column will appear weekly in the ANP editions).

By BRIAN A. WALTERS

More information about the Pricing and Advertising of Consumer Items Act is located herein. See the previous two weeks columns of LEGAL AID for other essential data in the Act.

A retailer may choose to not individually price mark up to 25 classes of items or individual items. Such classes or items must be listed and posted in a conspicuous place in the retail store.

The retailer may also choose to not individually price mark not more than 25 classes or items which are featured at a reduced price.

If the items are not marked pursuant to the above then the price and name or description of the items shall be written on a clear, readable, conspicuous sign placed near such items.

It is a violation of this Act if a person knowingly charges or attempts to charge a retail sale price for a consumer item which exceeds the price required to be on an item. Remember, in last week's article, some items were not required to have a price marked on them. It is okay for a retailer to charge less than the price required to be indicated on the consumer item.

Any complaints of an alleged violation of this Act should be reported to the prosecuting attorney, police, or the attorney general's office. The attorney general may take action to enjoin a continuing violation of this Act.

A person who suffers a loss as a result of a violation of this Act may bring an individual or class action to recover actual damages or $200, whichever is greater, for each day on which violations of this Act have been found together with reasonable attorney's fees not to exceed $100 in an individual action.

This Act does not apply to non-profit food cooperatives.

In a future article I will tell you about the provisions of the Act relating to advertising. Until then, check the prices.

Cancer foundation seeks telephone volunteers

The Cancer Information Service, housed at the Michigan Cancer Foundation (MCF), is recruiting volunteers to become Information Specialists for the toll-free telephone information and referral system.

The training schedule will entail 6 sessions of 4 hours each, beginning September 28, 1982, and continuing until October 7, 1982. Upon completion of the course, volunteers will be asked to commit to 4 hours a week as Information Specialists.

The Cancer Information Service (CIS) is part of a national network of cancer information centers funded by the National Cancer Institute (NCI). The phone lines, accessible to all Michigan residents, will be open from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on weekdays. The volunteers will provide useful, accurate, and compassionate assistance to the lay public and health professionals with questions about cancer.

Persons interested in becoming part of the volunteer effort should call Volunteer Services at the Michigan Cancer Foundation at (313) 294-3655.

To adopt the following resolution as proposed by Allen Park:

WHEREAS, substitute Senate Bill 792 was introduced and approved by the Senate without an opportunity for input via the Public Hearing procedure; and

WHEREAS, substitute Senate Bill 792 appears to cause an increase cost to the taxpayers for services, not the reported decrease cost; and

WHEREAS, substitute Senate Bill 792 would cause major structural change in the Library System, without adequate time for implementation, require legal action and safeguards for employee reorganization; and

WHEREAS, substitute Senate Bill 792 may cause serious disruption of Library Services; and

WHEREAS, substitute Senate Bill 792 may represent only vested interest. NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Board of Trustees of Huron Township oppose passage of substitute Senate Bill 792 and request your assistance in the defeat thereof.

Motion Carried Unanimously.

#825-4h1 Motion by Geierman Supported by Ashby.

To adopt the following resolution as proposed by Westland:

WHEREAS, Senate Bill 2172, sponsored by Senator Barry Goldwater and Senate Bill 2445, sponsored by Senators Ernest Hollings and Howard Cannon, would place in the Federal Government's hands the authority now granted to State and local governments with respect to regulation of cable television, and

WHEREAS, Many municipalities in the last several years have achieved franchise agreements that provide for meeting of community needs and maintaining community control, and

WHEREAS, The use of minimum service standards, minimum access requirements, rate regulation and the establishment of franchise fees are items of local concern and are necessary for proper enforcement of cable ordinances, and

WHEREAS, Many municipalities in the United States have distinguished themselves by negotiating franchise agreements that protect the public interest and respect the private company's interest.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Huron Township Board of Trustees indicates its strong opposition to Senate Bill 2172 and Senate Bill 2445.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Huron Township Board of Trustees goes on record as indicating that it believes the Federal Government's power should be limited to regulation of national ownership policies and setting of minimum privacy standards.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that copies of this resolution be sent to Senator Donald Riegle, Senator Carl Levin, the State Commerce Committee, the National League of Cities, the Michigan Municipal League and to surrounding communities.

Motion Carried - Gamber abstained.

Her first ace

It's never too late to honor a golfer who scores a hole-in-one.

And that's what Vicky Ridge of Romulus who competes in the Romulus Senior League did recently. Mrs. Ridge connected on the rare drive with a 5-wood on the 12-hole, 135-yarder at Washtenaw Country Club's golf course for her first ace in 25 years of golfing.

"I hit it with my 5-wood, watched it drop on the green and disappear in the cup," recalled Mrs. Ridge. "The young lady I was playing with was more excited than I was. It was a real thrill, believe me."

Westland Malarkey's wins softball championship title

honors the weekend of August 7-8 in Fraser in the Michigan Recreation & Parks Association/Amateur Softball Association State Tournament.

The tournament victory in Fraser earned Malarkey's a berth in the Amateur Softball Association Mixed National Tournament in Topeka, Kansas over Labor Day Weekend, but Kerr said the team would not attend.

"We have too many of our players committed elsewhere that weekend," he explained. "Besides, the cost of that trip would overburden our budget, which is already strained with another trip to Virginia on the drawing board for September."

Like other softball teams that travel to tournaments, Malarkey's has to be conscious of financial considerations. "Expenses add up quickly," pointed out Kerr. "Food, hotel rooms and transportation costs are shouldered by the players, and that makes it a costly venture."

Steve Kasapis, the owner of Malarkey's Pub, and his manager, Michael Scott, known to patrons as "Scotty," have provided the team with uniforms and funds to pay the entry fees for the tournaments, and both men are pleased with the results.

"They're making a name for themselves and for us," declared Kasapis. "They're wearing our shirts. It's advertising. They're helping bring people in here and we're helping them defray the cost of participating. It's good two-way street."

Scott echoed Kasapis' sentiments. "These are high energy level people," he asserted. "They're out there trying to earn some recognition for themselves and for us. They've done a great job so far," he added, pointing to the trophies behind the bar.

In coming weeks, Malarkey's is scheduled to compete in the "Double-Six Coed World Series" in Stanton; the Freeport Fall Invitational; and the U.S.S.A. Mixed National Tournament in Petersburg, Virginia.

Williams is crowned Canton golf champ

After seven weeks of competition, Betty Williams was crowned the Canton Recreation Woman's Golf League champion.

Williams came up with 32 points to edge the runner-up, Madelyn Deedler who finished second with 30 points. There was a three-way tie for third as Jan Obara, Dealia Ritz and Denise Chapman all checked in with 29 points.

Williams also carried the best round of the competition as she carded a 46 for the 9-holes; Lou Skotzke had a 53, while Deedler and Chapman both shot a 54.

In the senior's golf league, after six weeks of league play, there remains a two-way tie for first place as Bob Herrera and Ralph Deetz each have 26 points.

Ralph and Ed Mack turned in the best rounds as they both carried a 45. Gerald Cypress turned in a 49.

25,000 hunters set for year's first duck calling tournament

The 35th annual Michigan Duck Hunter's Tournament and Midwest Decoy Contest and Duck Calling Championship will be held Sunday, Sept. 19 at Pointe Mouillee State Game Area headquarters which fronts on the Huron River in Wayne County, east of I-75 Expressway.

The Duck Hunter's Tourney is co-sponsored by the Pointe Mouillee Waterfowlers Association. The skills of waterfowling, marsh hunting, duck calling, sneak shooting, using sneak boat and 60 decoys, lay-out boat hunting surrounded by decoys will be demonstrated. The latter two categories are used in open waterfowling for blue bill ducks.

Hy Dahlka is the founder and chairman of the tournament. Points will be scored by several waterfowl-ing experts. They are: James Foote, co-chairman and co-ordinator; Ed Navarre, chairman of the Midwest Decoy Contest; Len Carnegie, president of the Michigan Waterfowl Decoy Association; and Bob Ranka of the Gibraltar Duck Hunter's Association.

Entries must register by 10 a.m. on Sunday for water events. Marsh contestants, using duck boats will attached blinds, will set out fifteen decoys. Other events will be: one-half mile duckboat races in both the men and boys category; one-half mile rowboat races for men and boys; hip boot's marsh race; the Nate Quilan Memorial Punt Boat Race; and dog retriever trials, any breed. The dogs involved in the latter must be adult dogs or pups that have not qualified in AKC trials.

Registration is until noon and judging will be by Sam Gay.

The Michigan Duck Calling Championship Contest for adults from fourteen years of age and up and who are residents of Canada and the United States will be held on Sunday at 2 P.M. with registration closing at 1:30 for the event. The winner will be eligible to enter the World Duck Calling Championship Contest held at Stuttgart, Arkansas. Also the junior under fourteen years of age who wins will be eligible for the Junior World Championship Duck Calling contest.

In order to qualify for world championship entry the applications will be processed by the Duck calling contest judges. They are George Kadar, Louis Zelenak, Art Lorenz, Ron Gorski, and Pete Rebek.

The Midwest Decoy Contest is a two day event to be held on September 18 and 19. Decoys must be registered by 9:30 a.m., on Saturday. Judging begins at 10 a.m.

The winner of the best of show award in the Professional Floating Class division will receive the Nate Quilan Memorial Trophy and five hundred dollars. The Intermediate and Novice Floating Class division winners will be awarded a trophy and ribbons.

The Decorative Class best of show winner will receive five hundred dollars and a trophy. All carvers will be eligible.

Carvers are also invited to enter the Joel Barber Memorial Head Whittling Contest. The entry must be a finished duck or goose head of either sex, drake or hen, which may have been finished prior to the show date. The head must be painted or stained and mounted on a base. The name of the winner will be added to the permanent Joel Barber Memorial Trophy.

There will also be a swap and sell session of decoys, carvings and collector's items at the Holiday Inn, Dixie at I-75, Monroe, Michigan which will be held between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. on September 18.

Nemos claims Van Buren's softball playoff championship

Besides Captain Nemo's having good submarine sandwiches, they also make great softball players.

In Van Buren Township Parks & Recreation Men's Softball last week, Captain Nemo's softball team dominated the playoffs.

The final playoff game matched Lodge Lanes and Captain Nemo's in head-to-head competition.

Lodge Lanes immediately challenged Captain Nemo's with a two-run lead on Bob Lemasters' walk, Rob Laney's triple, and a RBI base hit by Dan Skyles.

However, Nemos came back with two runs of their own with a lead-off walk, a double by Bob Johnson, and a double by Wilson Boone. Lodge Lanes pitcher, Mike Carmony held Nemos in check until the fourth inning when Dave Moore, Mike Collins, Danny Cordle all singled, and to 4.

Bobbie Meyers, Michael McCloskey doubled, and John Yocum tripled to put Captain Nemo's ahead 7

Captain Nemos ace pitcher Wilson Boone allowed only four hits after the third inning in holding Lodge Lanes to only four runs.

Nemos added one final insurance run in the bottom of the sixth inning to win the championship with the score of 8 to 4.

Captain Nemo's coach, Harold Belanger said, "The boys played five tough games, and certainly earned their first place trophy."

Hail to the victors

The Cherry Hill Restoration softball team, representing Inkster Parks and Recreation League edged Ypsi's Aubrey Saloon to capture the inaugural congressman William Ford Invitational Softball Tournament, players on the winning team pictured with the veteran congressman include: Rich Bonk (kneeling, from left),

7-3 win brings victory

Puffer Red edges Total for Romulus Class A playoff crown

As they did throughout the season, Puffer Red and Total Petroleum put on an excellent show, and this time Puffer Red managed to stroll away with a 7-3 victory and the 1982 Romulus Parks and Recreation women's Class A Softball Championship.

The see-saw affair saw Puffer grab a 2-1 lead after the first inning, then Total came back to take command 3-2 after two frames. But two unanswered Puffer runs in the fifth and three more in the sixth proved to be enough in the finale.

Sandy Holiday gave up seven hits, two less than loser Diana Kampsen, to chalk up the key victory. Holiday received ample hitting support from Maria Franklin who hammered a homer and drove in two runs. Also turning in with a pair of RBIs was Tina Gray who clubbed a double and triple. Linda Fleming had a RBI double for the champs.

In the meantime, Sue Fritzpatrick and Mary Day combined for four of the Total seven hits. Each finished the season with a single and double. Kampsen drove in one run with a base hit.

Total had no problem with F. X. Coughlin in the opening round as they buried their rivals 16-3 behind a 22-hit assault led by Lisa Bratcher who account for three hits, including a pair of triples and a roundtripper that produced four runs batted in.

Karen Webber chipped in a pair of singles and a double and triple and three RBIs. Kampsen had two hits.

Nancy Folsom tagged Kampsen for two hits while Diana and Tammy Meadows each collected RBI singles. Cheryl Michelin was charged with the loss.

Puffer Red launched its title drive with a shutout over Progressive Club, 16-0, as Sandy Holiday yielded six hits — two apiece to Cindy Griffin, Donna Quiring and Donna Yount.

Maria Franklin again sparked the winners as she latched on to four hits including a homer and four RBIs. Theresa Gibson also had four RBIs with a triple, double and single. Tina Gray drilled a circuit clout and singled for the champs as Holiday again was the winner on the mound.

Progressive wound up a 9-2 winner over Coughlin's thanks to Linda Hadyniak's three-hit pitching performance. The Meadows sisters accounted for two of the three hits and Nancy Folsom got the third.

Losing pitcher Cheryl Michelin gave up a pair of singles to Cindy Griffin and Donna Yount.

In their first meeting of the playoffs, Total managed only five hits off of Holiday as Puffer claimed a surprisingly easy 10-1 victory over their rivals. Priscilla Gray, Franklin, Kim Pitts and Rhonda Harris each checked in with two hits off of loser Mary Day who wasted her two hits and got the only RBI off of Holiday.

Want Ads help you send your children off to school with everything you want them to have.

It's easy! Make a tour through your home with a sharp eye out for things you haven't been using and don't expect to use. Make a list of the articles you'd like to convert to cash.

You'll see dollars in place of bikes, baby furniture, hunting gear, cameras, power tools, musical instruments, record players and many more worthwhile items.

You'll be listing things another family is searching for in the Classified Section — and your Want Ad will bring the two of you together.

To place your money-bringing ad, just dial the phone number below. A courteous, helpful Ad Writer will quickly help you work out an ad that brings quickest response at the least investment.

Start your list now. You'll soon collect the cash that lets you send your children back to school with everything you want them to have.
